50,000 Coming Home

WASHINGTON — President Nixon yesterday announced an additional 50,000-man reduction of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by April 16.

The new cut brings the over-all reduction to 115,500 men between last Jan. 20 and next April 16.

Benefits Hike OK'd

WASHINGTON — The House unanimously approved a 15-per cent boost in monthly Social Security benefits yesterday for all 25 million recipients starting New Year's Day.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the increase will become part of the tax-reform bill being negotiated by House-Senate conferees resolving differences in earlier House and Senate bills.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Tax Lists Are Inside Today

The list of personal property assessments for 1969 applicable to Hanover Township property owners appears in today's Herald. The official notice to property owners comes from P. J. Cullerton, Cook County assessor.

Personal property includes automobiles and personal holdings other than real estate. The amount listed is the assessed value and not the tax. To see if you're listed, look inside.

Trial-Death Link Hinted

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy 7" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy 7" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated, "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

Meeting Set In Dist. 211 To Fill Seat

The Palatine-Schaumburg High School Dist. 211 board will call a special meeting Jan. 5 to appoint a new board member to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Eugene Baker of Lexington Fields, Schaumburg.

Candidates will be interviewed and a successor named the same night to fulfill the Illinois School Code requirement for appointment within 30 days of a resignation.

"We have applications available here at the administration office for interested persons," G. A. McElroy, superintendent, said. "People thinking of interviewing should contact us as soon as possible."

BAKER'S RESIGNATION was presented to the board at its meeting Dec. 11. According to Allyn Franké, Dist. 211 attorney, the 30-day limitation for appointment begins with the date on the letter.

Baker's letter is dated Dec. 8, making it necessary for the board to make an appointment before Jan. 6 to avoid a special election.

Any registered voter in Dist. 211, which covers most of Palatine and Schaumburg Townships, is eligible to serve on the board.

The appointee will serve until the end of Baker's term in April, 1970.

Dist. 211 board members delayed accepting Baker's resignation in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid making an appointment during the holidays. "We would like to have as many persons as possible apply for this position," Lyle Johnson, board president, said. "It is unfortunate the vacancy came at a time when people are so busy."

IN APRIL, three board seats will be up.

Village Files To Block Fisher Farm Purchase

The Village of Hanover Park filed a court motion Monday to intervene in a land condemnation suit the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) has against the 200-acre Fisher Farm.

Hanover Park Atty. William Davies said he hopes the court will consider his motion this week. The village action seeks to block MSD purchase of the unincorporated tract on the southern side of the 106-acre MSD Hanover Water Reclamation Plant.

Trustees authorized Davies' action in a special board meeting Friday. Village Pres. Richard Baker has opposed the MSD land purchase, stating the district intends to use the land for sludge farming.

DAVIES SAID MONDAY the court must decide if the village can legally intervene since the municipality is not an owner of interest in the land. He said the property owner in the past indicated willingness and desire to meet with the village to discuss annexation, but talk was dropped when the MSD filed its suit.

The attorney said the farm is presently zoned commercial and industrial and the village would annex it under a variety of zoning.

According to an MSD attorney, the land would be used for expansion of its sewage treatment works. Any agricultural use of the land would be a temporary purpose until plant construction got under way.

The MSD's 10-year cleanup and flood control program calls for more than doubling size of the Hanover plant at a cost of $4.5 million. Final plans on the expansion are to be completed in January, 1971.

Atty. Robert E. Wiss, special Counsel to the MSD on land condemnation, said he is currently negotiating for the property with the attorney for Mrs. Julia Fisher, estate owner.

WISS PREDICTED HE will know in mid-January if a settlement can be reached or if the case will go to trial. The MSD's land condemnation suit was filed Nov. 4.

Davies said if the village's motion to intervene is permitted by court, the village will become party to the defendant, Mrs. Fisher.

MSD trustees authorized negotiation for the land in September. According to Hanover Park officials, they have met twice with the district trustees and the MSD remains steadfast in its intent to acquire the land.

Village officials in Hoffman Estates are currently considering four sites for the new municipal building planned to serve a population of 75,000.

Elgin YMCA Plans Snow Skiing Classes

Four-week snow skiing classes for four different age groups will be conducted at the Elgin YMCA in December and January.

Youth Program Director Howard Shaffer says the classes will meet Dec. 22 and 29 and Jan. 5 and 12.

The first two sessions will be in the Elgin YMCA and the last two will be on Wilmet Mountain, Wilmet, Wis., Shaffer said.

Third through sixth-grade students will meet at 5 p.m.; seventh through ninth-grade students will meet at 6 p.m.; high school students will meet at 7 p.m., and the adult class will be at 8 p.m.

Enrollment will be limited to 15 persons in each class.

THE FIRST TWO sessions in the YMCA will deal with conditioning and the basics of skiing, Shaffer said, and the last two will be actual skiing.

The registration fee will include transportation to Wilmet for both sessions, ski equipment and lift tickets, Shaffer said. "Skiers with their own equipment will be given a reduction in fee."

Borge Christian will be the instructor.

He has skied in Norway, the Alps and other parts of Europe and has been a skiing instructor for seven years. The full-time instructor at Wilmet Mountain, he will teach the American techniques of skiing, Shaffer said.

For registration information, contact the Elgin YMCA, 695-1100.

A preliminary building plan is being worked out between architect Andrew McPherson of Otis Associates and a municipal building committee chaired by Virginia Hayter.

A formal proposal for a building will come before the village board when a site option is secured, McPherson said. The proposal would then need residents approval.

In the interim, interviews have been held with department heads in the village to determine their needs.

DIVIDED INTO 10 sections, the tentative plans include space for administration, finance and public works, the department of building and zoning and the village engineer.

Facilities for the health department and the police department are being planned in addition.

Listed under miscellaneous functions will be space for all appointed unpaid commissions such as the plans commission, and the youth commission, McPherson added.

A hall for village board meetings will have a raised dais, and a built-in public address system. It will be designed for use when the rest of the building is closed.

THE BUILDING WILL be air-conditioned, and engineered to provide proper lighting and acoustics.

The building is being planned around natural growth, both residential and commercial, McPherson said.

The number of employees the building will accommodate is to be planned later. There are a number of things to be decided first that will effect the number of employees in the village.

McPherson said he does not know which direction the plans will go. Asked about computer space he said it has been injected into conversations.

VARIOUS METHODS of recording village records are being considered, he added. Any record keeping plan adopted will need approval by the state. Microfilm is one alternative, and there are three types of microfilm that might be used, he said.

Otis and Associates are currently building Elk Grove Village's municipal building. Their experience there will be used to Hoffman Estates' best advantage, according to McPherson.

The firm has also designed several public works buildings, school additions and most recently done much commercial planning.

for election. Baker's term is over in the 1970 election, as is Johnson's. The third election will be for a permanent successor for George Ledford who resigned in June. His term ends in April, 1971.

Appointments for vacancies on the board are effective until the next board election when a permanent replacement is elected to finish an unexpired term.

Stickers Go On Sale; Deadline Is Jan. 31

The sale of vehicle stickers will begin today at the municipal building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Road. The business office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. throughout the week.

As an added convenience, the stickers may be purchased on Saturdays during January, from 8 a.m. until noon. The deadline for 1970 vehicle stickers is Jan. 31.

Ring Brothers Seek Complex Of Apartments

In an informal meeting with members of Hoffman Estates Plan Commission last week, Ring Brothers, a West Coast developer, proposed construction of 831 apartment units in the northwest corner of Hoffman Estates.

The project, a joint venture with Kaufman and Broad, Inc., developer of a large townhouse complex in the same area, would be primarily an adult community, although perhaps as many as 100 to 150 school age children might come from the area.

Working in conjunction with Selig, Stevens, Peterson and Flock, a St. Charles land planning firm, representatives of Ring Brothers assured plan commission members that the complex was being designed within the limitations of the present village code as well as R-4 (multiple-family) zoning for which they hope to apply.

APPROXIMATELY 46 ACRES, the project, if approved, would be known as Ring Brothers Barrington Square, and would be located north of Hassell Road near Barrington Road.

The firm is planning to build 558 one-bedroom apartments which would represent 68 per cent of the total project; the remaining 32 per cent of its units would be two bedroom apartments.

A similar preliminary meeting has reportedly been held with officials of Dist. 54 who are said to be impressed with the proposed development.

Representatives of the building firm told the Herald late last week that school officials do not feel the number of children which will emanate from their project will be excessive and can easily be absorbed by a new school to be built nearby.

THEY WERE UNABLE to say whether the 46-acre parcel involved is owned by or under option to their firm, but stressed that their company was selected for the project by Kaufman and Broad, Inc., who had searched out a builder to investigate such an apartment complex.

Their project will differ from the Southfield, Mich., based townhouse builders in that all units will be on a strictly rental basis, the Ring representatives pointed out.

They are planning a density of 13 units per acre and will also plan to provide a 1.7 parking ratio per unit.

Construction may either be done by the Kaufman and Broad, Inc., contractor or could be bid out since a firm decision has not yet been made.

Their proposal will very shortly be formally brought to the plan commission for a decision and subsequent recommendation to the village board.

SANTA CLAUS was brought to the village Saturday by the Schaumburg Jaycees. This is the third year Santa interrupted his busy pre-Christmas schedule and came from the North Pole to visit with the children of Schaumburg.

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

Preliminary OK for Center

The governing board of the Northwest Educational Cooperative (NEC) Saturday morning gave preliminary approval to plans for the Developmental Training Center in Palatine.

The center, sponsored by the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization (NSSEO), will be constructed in two phases. The first phase, which the NSSEO hopes to have completed by the fall of 1971, will consist primarily of classroom space.

The governing board, after offering preliminary approval, voted to form a three-man committee to work with the NEC specifications committee to iron out changes.

THE COMMITTEE consists of three area board members — Robert LeForge of Dist. 23, Edward Bedard of Dist. 54 and Jeremiah Crise of Dist. 21.

As the architectural firm of Nicol and Nicol Inc. proceeds with plans, the committee will work on minor details, such as placement of doors and the building's heating unit.

The facility, for children with trainable mental handicaps, will accommodate 225 children. When the second phase is completed at the site at 500 S. Plum Grove Road, it will house 300 children.

In other action the NEC approved a five-man committee to set up a teacher negotiations seminar to take place early next year.

The committee, including Supt. Donald Strong of Dist. 25, Supt. Eric Sahlberg of Dist. 57, and board members Elmer Linden of Dist. 54, Harold Haney of Dist. 25 and Leland Gibbs of Dist. 15, will have to determine if teachers are to be invited to the seminar.

FINALLY, THE NEC approved the purchase of a $7,185 special NSSEO bus to transport non-ambulatory students from schools within the NEC area.

The High School Dist. 214 board, which administers the NEC program, must ultimately approve the expenditure. The bus will permit transportation of students strapped onto stretchers; normal buses do not provide such a service.

The governing board of the NEC will meet again on Jan. 10 at 789 West Kensington Road in Mount Prospect. Eight elementary districts — 15, 21, 23, 25, 26, 54, 57, and 59 — and high school districts 211 and 214 participate in it.

Smith On Campaign Unit

Barrington Township GOP Committeeman Harold B. Smith Jr. has been named to a nine-member Republican campaign committee to help elect the Cook County GOP ticket in 1970.

Floyd T. Fulle, Maine Township GOP committeeman and candidate for reelection to the Cook County board, is chairman of the campaign panel.

The campaign committee was named recently by Edmund J. Kucharski, chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee.

"EACH OF these men is exceptionally knowledgeable about the political activity in Cook County," Kucharski said. "Together they constitute a committee well qualified to provide coordination for the forthcoming campaign."

Fulle said, "We do not expect an easy campaign. However, we believe our ticket is an exceptional one, which, working as a team, will score an outstanding victory in 1970."

Others named to the committee are: Richard W. Withers, Worth Township GOP organization; Louis J. Kasper, 35th ward committeeman; Harry Magers, Berwyn Township committeeman; Hamilton B. Talbert, Jr., 4th ward committeeman; Arthur A. Tolker, 48th ward committeeman; Richard H. Anderson, 12th ward organization.

Newcomers Honored

Newcomers Club, sponsored by the Elgin YW, offers membership to all women who are new residents in the area.

Meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month.

tion; and Edward F. Moore, honorary chairman of the executive committee of the county Republican Central Committee.

Social Service Education Grant

Alpha Xi Delta, national social fraternity for women, is again offering a graduate fellowship for advanced study in the field of social service, the grant to be $1,500.

Alpha Xi Delta is continuing to offer this fellowship because it concurs with most civic authorities and juvenile court officials that there is an increasing need for trained personnel to work with youngsters.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for this award, an applicant must be a graduate of an accredited college or university, have a grade average of B or above, be interested in pursuing a career of working with children or youth to combat delinquency in the United States.

Interested persons may obtain application for this fellowship from Mrs. Richard J. Lundeman, 2815 N. 72nd Court, Elmwood Park, Ill., 60635. Completed applications should be mailed to the national philanthropy chairman, Mrs. Robert F. Batchelder, 6186 Soledad Mountain Road, La Jolla, California, 92037, in time to be received by the deadline date of January 31, 1970.

Other nominees for the one-year terms are Gordon Anderson, Robert MacNeille, George Morton and Donald Van Beck.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, Dec. 16, the 350th day of 1969 with 15 days to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full stage.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1773, American patriots dressed themselves as Indians and boarded a British vessel in Boston harbor in what became known as the Boston Tea Party. They threw 342 chests of tea overboard in a protest against taxation.

In 1835, property loss was placed at $20 million after fire broke out in New York City. Firemen from Philadelphia were called to assist.

In 1944, the Germans launched their last great attack of World War II with the battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

In 1965, 15,000 Persons were feared dead when a cyclone struck Pakistan.

A thought for the day: H. L. Mencken once said, "Injustice is relatively easy to bear; what stings is justice."

The Way We See It

Need Pollution Court

Pollution waits for no man.

Once it is set in motion — in the air, in water, on land — it is as inevitable as it is insidious.

There are no time limits. The environment goes bad just as quickly, or as slowly as we defile it, and continues to go bad so long as we fail to protect it.

That reality apparently has been playing on the mind of Atty. Gen. William Scott, now opening up full stride in his crusade against the polluters of Illinois.

To that end, he has made an extraordinary request of the Cook County Circuit Court. Scott, in a discussion with Chief Judge John S. Boyle, has asked that the court set up a special pollution branch.

The purpose would be to specifically handle cases dealing with air and water polluters, to expedite their hearing and processing.

Scott, who said the court would be the first in the nation to hear pollution cases exclusively, reported that Judge Boyle gave a favorable reaction to the idea, but is waiting for the formal request.

If granted, a special judge would be assigned to the court with an interest and some expertise in pollution matters.

We enthusiastically endorse Scott's proposal, and urge Judge Boyle to grant the request.

It is clear that one of the biggest problems in fighting pollution has been laxity in enforcement. This is partly because of lack of a commitment by enforcement officials, shortcomings in the law, and the frustrating tradition of delays in a backlogged court system.

Scott has been showing the commitment, repeatedly and publicly vowing to take on the polluters. He got the laws he wanted, when the General Assembly gave him a package that not only stiffened penalties, but cleared the way for him to initiate action against polluters, including in Cook County.

Now, recognizing that it could all come to a halt in court proceedings, he has asked that that system be changed as well.

It's the natural last logical step in arming himself for the battle. He's justified the need already by the volume of suits he's filed against polluters, both industrial and governmental, and by the stack of suits he says he intends to file in the future.

None of those suits will come to any good unless they get fast and firm action in court, since pollution is a matter that can no longer be put off until another day.

The attorney general has put himself on the spot in his anti-pollution campaign. He has made some bold pledges, been given the laws and public support he asked, and has begun filing his suits.

Now we'd like to see him get a special avenue in court, and show just what can be done.

Reflections On The Passing Parade

by BRAD BREKKE

"Hey George, you gonna be home tomorrow?"

"Yeah, why Fred?"

"You know about the parade?"

"What parade?"

"Cripes, don't you read the paper?"

"Huh?"

"Says so right here. 'Approximately 500 people and 100 automobiles are expected to participate tomorrow in a peace march in Mount Prospect protesting the war in Vietnam.' It's sponsored by the Northwest Suburban Peace Coalition of Students for Peace, whatever that is. Gonna have a funeral procession, speakers and a mock draft lottery up to Kopp Park."

"Yeah, so what else is new? Parades, marches, demonstrations, moratoriums, protests, sit-downs and social upheaval. I'm sick of parades and peace marches, frankly."

"ME TOO. Don't mean much anymore. Everyone knows about the war. I think most people want peace. I don't blame the kids for being upset by it, but I'm up to here with marches. Wish they'd try something new for a change."

"Like what?"

"Oh, I don't know. Maybe they could all cut off an ear like Van Gogh. Make a spectacle of it. Something really sensational."

"Say, that parade's going right past your home, too. Says here it's going to pass from Golf Road to Route 83 and then over to Dempster."

"As far as I'm concerned, there's only one parade I really remember. John F. Kennedy's funeral back in 1963. I remember the rolling of drums, the boots placed backward in the saddle, the clinkety-clink of the horses and the caisson carrying his casket. Now that was a parade. The rest I don't remember."

"YEAH, MAYBE."

"What you think of it all George?"

"The war? Well hell, we're always gonna have wars I think. Some popular. Some not, like this one. What difference does it make if it's declared or not? You get killed just as dead either way. I think as long as man survives he'll be at war with himself. Part of his nature I guess."

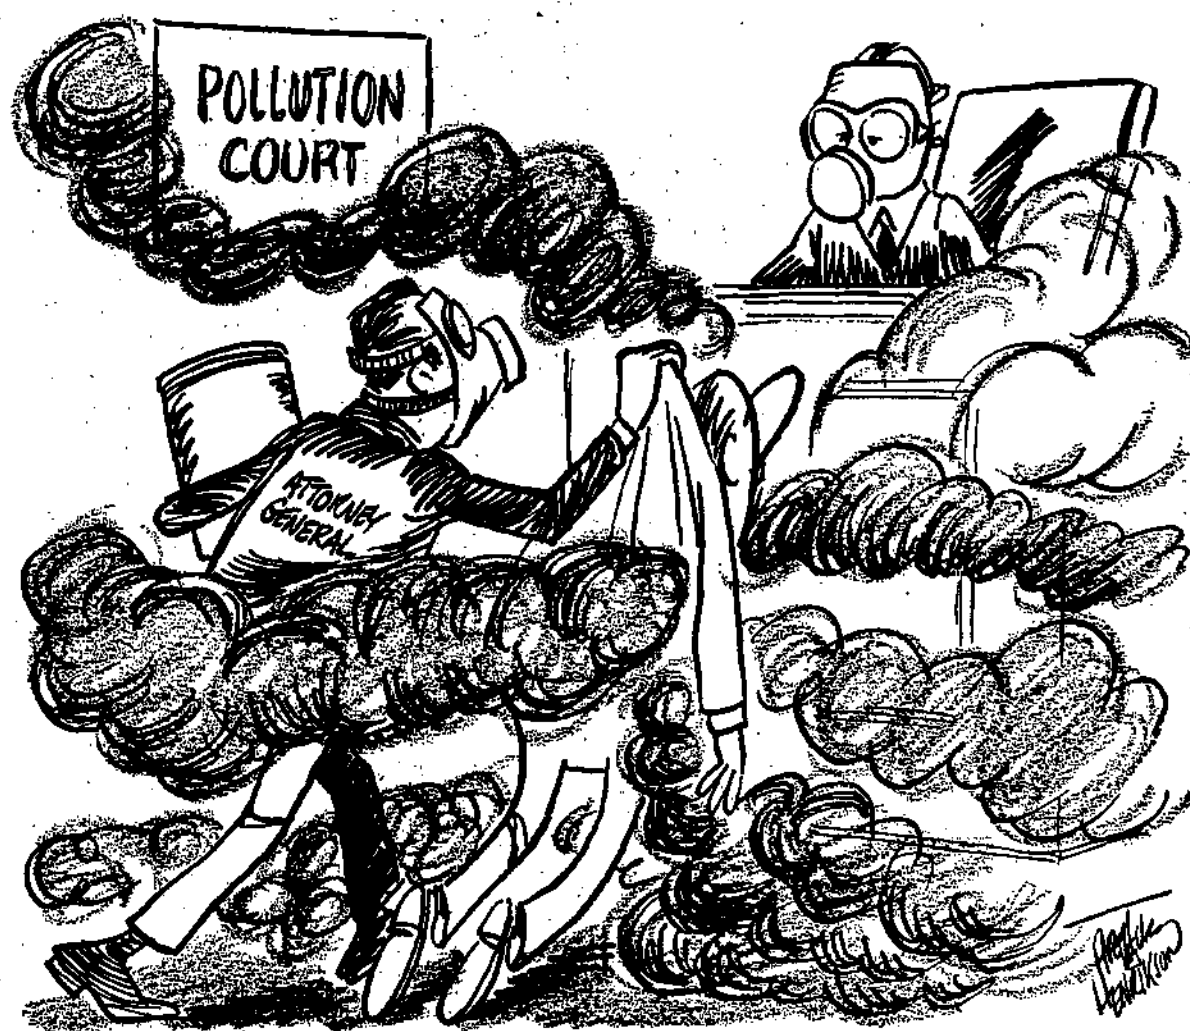

"Then you think man is basically bad, right?"

"No, just basically imperfect. You know, we'd never really know what peace was, unless we had a war. Nothing would be pretty, unless we had something else that was ugly. Good and bad. Right and wrong. It's a study of contrasts. You know there's never a man so well as one who's been sick and recovered. Thing is, as soon as we recover from one war, dammit to hell if we ain't back into another one."

"Well, then what do you think of the hippies? With all the peace, love and flowers?"

"OH, IT'S A GOOD thought. Maybe a good way of life. But it ain't for everyone, baby. I think if man was by himself at the North Pole — where there are no pressures at all on him and never a war — it's part of his mischievous nature to start trouble. He'd probably get bored with the training in his profession so elected officials can put their faith in his ability. Residents who put those officials in office must have faith in the hired professionals, too.

But when it came to refuse collection, some people didn't want to listen. Some even went as far as to suspect his motives.

Dawson studied Palatine's garbage problems for more than a year. His recommendation for change to the village board was not a snap decision.

AS A SURVEY continued in sections of town, Dawson gave the board regular progress reports. The results of the survey showed that most people were ready for change. Not only were they ready for it, but they desired it. But when the moment for decision arrived, it seemed like all the hard work and good results were forgotten.

And so because some people, who unquestionably were a minority, talked loud and long, a change in garbage collection was delayed for several weeks.

It originally was hoped the conversion could be accomplished during autumn when the weather still was favorable for knocking on every door in Palatine.

VILLAGE OFFICIALS also wanted to close the village dump as soon as possible. As a matter of fact, they were told to close it by the state health department.

It's still open. Until unlimited pickup was offered in the village, there was no way to cut off facilities of the dump without causing several inconveniences to most of Palatine's population.

There could have been even more drastic effects from delay which might have created health hazards.

But this week, all the aggravation and opposition has become part of the past. Even those who might not like the change have been accommodated. They can pay a couple of dollars extra and keep the service they had.

Everyone should be happy, even though it took a lot of valuable extra time to bring a smile to all those faces.

arctic peace and serenity and find himself a Polar bear to kick, in the tail. Ya know?"

"Maybe."

"Say, what time you say that parade starts?"

"Just a minute — says here at 1 p.m. in the Mount Prospect Plaza."

"Well, maybe I will go out to watch it. I was supposed to go Christmas shopping with the wife. But we'd just end up fighting. I hate to shop with that woman... takes so damn long."

"I know what you mean. I have one just like her at home too. Say, why don't you bring the kids. I'll go with you."

"FINE WITH ME George."

"I see what you mean. Fighting's part of our nature all right. Ah, that's life."

"Yeah. I guess so. If you're lucky enough to live one."

"Say, who said nobody likes a parade?"

"I dunno. I guess you."

"Well, that's one of our rights, isn't it? Maybe it all ain't so bad after all."

"Yeah, see ya tomorrow."

What Price For Protection?

What in heavens name do we, the people in Winston Park Unit 6, have to do to protect our children and ourselves from some horrible disaster costing the life of one or more?

This very morning I could have killed or permanently injured several children waiting for the school bus. They stand in a driveway at the end of a hill, which leads to the only outlet street in the subdivision. Therefore, a great majority of the residents have to use this street to get to Palatine Road. Because this corner has been a hazard, every resident is careful when driving at this point. I was going very slowly when I approached this corner and I still slid. My car stopped just short of where the children stand. Fortunately, the school bus had just picked up the children.

Letters Welcomed

Correspondence from readers is welcomed. Only letters of 500 words or less will be published, however, and no anonymous letters will be considered for publication. Letters must be signed with name and address. Direct your mail to The Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60005.

Because there is no break in traffic from Kennicott to Rohlwing Road this speed trap has been and always will be a hazard to those of us who live on the south and north sides of Palatine Road and must use Winston Drive as our entrance. Several of us have tried in vain to have some type of protection put at this corner, preferably a stop and go light, but as usual the burden is pushed off from the village to the county and the county to the state.

What human sacrifice do we have to make to get assistance? Where do we turn for help?

Mrs. John Ewald

Until The Next Tragedy...

by JAMES VESELY

The headline on the front page of yesterday's Herald tells it all.

"Palatine Rd. Claims Another Life," the headline reads, and you don't have to look at another word to know that that treacherous strip of concrete has been the cause of another death.

The latest victim was a 15-year-old boy who was hit by a truck while walking on the north frontage road of the mini-expressway. He was walking on the road because there are no sidewalks.

The sadness that now lives with the boy's family and with the driver of the truck that hit the boy is only a tiny portion of the grief that has come to Palatine Road.

RESIDENTS OF Arlington Vista and neighborhoods south of the expressway have protested to state agencies repeatedly.

They protested before last year's tragic school bus accident which caused the death of two teenagers.

The residents again protested three months ago and warned of the dangers of the frontage road and the lack of sidewalks.

The protests have all gone echoing through the halls of the Division of Highways and the response has always been polite letters of non-commitment. Until the next accident occurs.

Last year's bus accident at the corner of Palatine and Buffalo Grove roads caused a major revision in the state's program for traffic lights at that intersection.

Barricades were put up immediately and traffic lights erected.

NOW THE problem of the frontage roads has been brought to everyone's attention through the stark tragedy of a death on the highway. The letters the homeowners wrote three months ago now carry the added weight of that tragedy.

Now, perhaps something will be done. Perhaps the state will realize that something is wrong with the Palatine roadway. The road that was designated a mini-expressway has been designed with major faults that bring about the death of school children.

Slowly the measure of Palatine Road is being taken in the numbers of accidents that occur each year.

The Buffalo Grove intersection took its toll last year.

The frontage roads have claimed a victim this year.

AND STILL with us is the intersection of Palatine Road and Arlington Heights Road, a nightmare of confused drivers and inadequate traffic controls.

Someday the measure of that intersection will also be taken.

And then everybody will say "I told you so."

A posh ball with a festive holiday theme marked the 10th anniversary of Northwest Community Hospital. A black tie affair, the ball literally sparkled with glittery gowns and gay holiday decorations.

Scene of the swank affair, held Dec. 6, was the Gold Coast Room of the Drake Hotel where 330 guests sipped champagne, munched on hors d'oeuvres and dined on filet mignon, turtle soup, spinach-stuffed tomatoes, potato puffs and ice cream cake.

Entertainment included the comic wit of Corbett Monica, dancing to the Henry Brandon Orchestra and cocktail music by the Lillian Keller Trio.

A FURTHER TOUCH of luxury was added to the party when at least one cocktail host hired shiny black limousines to transport guests from the suburbs to the Drake.

Many of the ball guests had reserved rooms in the hotel for the evening, returning to their homes the following day. Those returning home that evening found that holiday weather, a new fallen snow, had also added a fresh, Christmas touch to the evening.

Serving as chairman of the anniversary ball was Dr. E. J. Jacobs. He was assisted by Mrs. Roland Franzen, invitations; Mrs. Robert Alfani, reservations; Mrs. Donald Ewald, decorations; Mrs. A. F. O'Neil, hostesses; Dr. Peter Sengson, menu; Mrs. William Pailey, entertainment; Dr. John Brouhard, patrons; John G. Woods, special guests; also Jack E. Ryan of the hospital's public relations staff, John Bartzal, president of the hospital board, and Mrs. E. J. Jacobs, wife of the chairman.

A happy note from Dr. Brouhard is that patron donations totaled $7000.

NORTHWEST COMMUNITY Hospital's ball earlier this month was the culmination of many months of planning for Mrs. Robert Alfani, reservations chairman, and Mrs. E. J. Jacobs, who served as "girl Friday" to Dr. Jacobs, ball chairman.

Gift Suggestion: Pomander Balls

The most treasured holiday gifts and decorations are those made in your own kitchen. With a little extra time you can make a friend especially happy this year — and at a minimum cost to you.

Pomander Balls, one of the oldest and most precious of all sachets, give a wonderful fragrance to clothes and linen closets.

Here are instructions for making this holiday specialty:

Select large firm oranges. Stick whole cloves into the peel of the orange until completely covered. The cloves may be inserted into the orange peel more easily if the holes have been made with the tines of a fork, or a skewer.

Roll in a mixture of equal parts of ground cinnamon and orrisroot (purchase in your pharmacy). Use about 1½ tablespoons of the combined spices for each orange. Pat in as much of the powdered mixture as will adhere to the orange.

Wrap the pomander in tissue paper. As pomander dries and shrinks, it develops its spicy fragrance. Remove from paper, shake off any loose powder, and the pomander is ready for use in linen and clothes closets. To hang in closet tie the pomander with a piece of ribbon ending in a loop.

That's the good news from Jerry Centoni, Poole Ford Co. salesman, who accompanied Mike Marshall and his dad to the Punt, Pass and Kick contest last weekend at Detroit.

Mike, the nine year old of the Frank L. Marshalls of 427 Hiawatha Dr. in Buffalo Grove, won the Western Division title for his age group during the halftime of the Detroit-Los Angeles game.

The victory qualifies Mike for the championship on Jan. 3 during the halftime of the National Football League game between the runnerup teams in both divisions. Mike's foe will be a nine year old from Atlanta, Ga. who won the right by competing in the Eastern Division showdown which was last Saturday in Dallas.

Centoni, whose company — Poole Ford — co-sponsored Mike along with the NFL, will again fly with Mike and his father, but the January trip will also have Mike's mother and Mrs. Centoni. They will have many things to do in Florida besides attending the "Runnerup Bowl." Among the side trips planned are a meeting with some astronauts at Cape Kennedy and a fishing expedition among others.

Mike was one of six boys from the Chicago area who represented the Bears from the ages of eight to 13. But he was the only one to come out with one of the large trophies and the southern trip.

In all, 48 boys from the eight Western Division clubs were given the royal welcome by the PP&K sponsors. The morning before the Lion-Ram game, each age group was narrowed down to two boys as their combined total of punts and place kicks determined the top two. Then, at halftime, Mike and his competitor completed the competition with passes. Mike ended up beating him by eight feet when the three events were totaled.

Tuerk's Pin Settles Issue

Tim Tuerk fashioned a pin in less than a minute to break a 20-20 deadlock and allow visiting Fremd to nip Wheeling in conference wrestling action Friday 25-20.

Tuerk stopped Wildcat sophomore Mike Baillargeon in 54 seconds in the crucial heavyweight showdown. It occurred after the guests had jumped into an early lead and then fell behind by a 20-17 count going down to the last two matches on the card.

John Dykstra of the Vikings turned back Wildcat Tom Holzkopf 7-0 in the 185-pound fray to forge the 20-20 tie.

Other Fremd victories were recorded by Len McGinn 5-1 in the 96-pound battle; Jeff Alvis 6-0 in the 107-pound duel, Ken Glueck 11-2 at 115 pounds, Steve Olson 5-2 at 123, and Rich Salinas 16-1 at 155.

'Cat triumphs were posted by Gary Schweitzer via a third-period pin at 130, Larry Rochetti by an 8-6 verdict at 137, Randy Wroble on a pin at 3:46 in the 165-pound faceoff and Tom Bertrand by forfeit at 175.

Steve Kearns of the Vikings and Wheeling's Chris Jorgensen knotted their 145-pound tangle 4-4.

The hosts gained some measure of retribution by sweeping the underlevel meets. The 'Cat jayvees triumphed 33-25, the sophs won 44-6 and the frosh were victorious 44-5.

Ice-Cold Start Disastrous for Hawk Five

by RON DUENN

Lacking the services of their coach and a recognizable first half offense, the Harper College basketball team plummeted to defeat at the hands of the hosting Prairie State Gophers Friday night, 83-65.

The Hawks played one of their worst games of the year as only 20 points were scored in the first half and 18 fouls were committed in the second.

Couch John Gelch was in an automobile accident a few days prior to the game and although it was described as "nothing serious" the doctors advised him to take it easy for a few days and he, consequently, could not make the game. Roy Kearns, the Harper tennis coach, was given the reins for the evening.

It's a good thing Gelch wasn't there, for he may have suffered "something serious" if he saw what his charges were doing on the floor.

It took Harper six minutes to score a field goal in the first half and they shot a miserable 24 per cent as they connected on only seven of 29 attempts from the floor.

Harper found itself pitted against a team that showed as much desire to win as Gelch's team usually does, but the Hawks were lacking it.

The Gophers were controlling the boards in the first half, a phase of the game that Harper has dominated in previous games, and this severely cut down the effectiveness of the Hawk defense.

The maroon and gold of Harper had been playing very good ball in their previous three contests, winning two of them and narrowly losing the third, but didn't come close to matching those efforts against the Gophers.

After Harper missed two free throws, Prairie State cashed in on one of the gifts and was never to fall behind for the rest of the tilt.

A press was instituted by the Gophers early in the game but their defense didn't hurt the Hawks as much as Harper's own lack of offense did.

Four straight shots were missed by the Hawks before they finally scored a basket at 14:25. Fortunately for Harper, the Gophers were guilty of five fouls in the same length of time and by connecting on five of the shots the Hawks were only down by three, 19-7.

Prairie State was playing a very deliberate, half control type game, but in the first 10 minutes of the game, they hit on only four of 14 shots from the floor. For one five-minute stretch, the Gophers made only two points but since the Hawks were having troubles of their own, they couldn't take advantage of Prairie State's unintentional goodwill.

At 9:39 of the half, the Gophers came alive and scored nine quick markers. The hosts opened up a 10 point lead at 3:27 and coasted to the buzzer commanding a 31-20 bulge.

Two of Harper's big scorers were held to a total of three points in the first half with Jim Mellen getting two and John Knopf, who had a 29 point effort in the preceding game, collecting one.

The second half didn't prove to be as frustrating offensively as the first but the Hawks couldn't keep from bumping into their opponents and the ensuing free throws by the opposition kept the game out of reach.

Both squads sunk 18 buckets in the final half but the Gophers made 18 gift tosses compared to nine for Harper and this combined with the halftime lead to give the hosts a comfortable victory.

Harper started out strong in the second half scoring nine points in two minutes and pulling within six of Prairie State but the Hawks then went into a three minute scoreless stretch and the Gophers built the margin up to 43-29.

For the rest of the half it was just a matter of the Gophers not allowing the Hawks to score too many points. Scott Sibbensen and Mellen came alive in the final stanza but it was too late as far as the Hawks were concerned.

Prairie State steadily pulled away from Harper in the final 10 minutes by scoring 30 markers and possessed a 16 point lead with almost seven minutes showing on the clock.

Sibbensen emerged as Harper's top scorer with 16 points. Don Duffy and Eric Schuster amassed 13 apiece and Mellen finished with 10.

Duffy and Sibbensen both fouled out and Harper put on one of the finest fouling displays in the history of the game as they committed five miscues in the final minute of play.

Couch Gelch will be trying to salvage something of his team when they travel to McHenry College Thursday night at 7:30. If the Hawks hope to win they'll have to promise that they won't beat themselves.

Hersey Looks Impressive In League Opener at FV

"Hersey, in my estimation, is probably one of the top three teams in the state."

This forthright statement was made by Forest View head gymnastics coach Gay Hughes after witnessing a powerful display of ability by the Huskies last Thursday night in the Mid-Suburban League gymnastics opener for both teams.

The Huskies, paced by some outstanding individual work by Gary Morava, romped past the hosting Falcons, 120.17-82.15.

Morava copped three events — horizontal bar (7.05), parallel bars (7.75) and free exercise (7.9) — in easily capturing the all-around title with an average of 6.37 for the six events he entered. Bob Berglund, who didn't perform as well as he's capable of doing, according to Hughes, finished a distant second with a total of 4.45.

Hersey took firsts in every event except the trampoline. Mike Conte of Forest View prevented a sweep of the firsts in bouncing to a 7.1. Copping the other No. 1 spots for the Huskies were Kyle Woodridge on the side horse with the highest mark of the night — 8.3, and Craig Stogren taking the rings with a 6.1 mark.

Forest View just barely won the frosh-soph meet nipping 45.7-45.11.

Young Elk Grove Swimmers Impress

Elk Grove's swimming program has been gradually improving in the three-plus years it has existed, and coach Phil Pardon expects that trend to continue this season.

"Very pleased" is how Pardon describes his feeling on the performance of the Grove tankers in their first three meets, two of which they won. The fourth will be Thursday at 4:30 against East Aurora in the Lively Junior High School pool, home of the Grenadier splashers.

Thus far, Elk Grove has defeated Elgin Larkin 69-28 and Elmwood Park 60-35 while losing to Lake Forest 60-35.

"Most of the team are sophomores and juniors and they've still been holding their own on the varsity level," says Pardon. "I'm really looking forward to seeing what they can do in another year or two."

"These boys have to get up at 5:30 in the morning and practice before school, and that takes some extra effort," the coach added.

The Lively pool is a park district facility operated by Elk Grove school district 59, to whom Pardon and his swimmers are grateful. This pool will be the site of the Mid-Suburban League meet Feb. 14.

Swimming has become a recognized conference sport for the first time this year since half of the league schools now have teams. Hersey this year became the fifth Mid-Suburban school to start a tank program.

With three meets already on the record, Pardon has a good idea who his top men will be in each event. "Who we use in each event may vary from one meet to another, though," he adds.

Mike Callahan and Dave Trier are the top performers in the 100 backstroke. "Callahan has already cut two full seconds off his best time last year and Trier has cut about five to ten seconds," Pardon estimates.

Cliff Schlak and Spencer Huebner are the top boys in the 400 freestyle and Bill Purcell is leading candidate in the 100 breaststroke. The individual medley is being handled by Schlak and Toler.

Bob Jacobson will be helping in the 50 freestyle, and the diving duties will be handled by Pat Dunning and Scott Martin. Dunning will also see action in the 100 butterfly.

Mike Bachus will be swimming in the 100 freestyle and Jacobson may also be used in this event.

In Elk Grove's latest meet, the 60-35 victory over Elmwood Park last Wednesday, the Grenadiers recorded four firsts and also boasted two winning relay teams.

Schlak was the individual star, claiming a pair of firsts in the 200 individual medley and also the 400 freestyle. He also was a member of the winning medley relay unit.

The other individual winners were Bachus in the 100 freestyle and Pat Massey in the 100 butterfly. Bachus also added a second in the 200 freestyle and Massey helped win the medley relay.

Manning the winning medley relay team were Callahan, Schlak, Massey, and Jacobson. The freestyle relay foursome which was victorious was Toler, Bob Leibrack, Jacobson, and Bachus.

Con-Con Draws Rules

by ED MURNANE

Illinois Constitutional Convention (Con-Con) delegates return to Springfield today to resume their quest for a new Constitution for the state.

Following last week's opening ceremonies, most of the 116 delegates returned to their homes while an 11-member Rules Committee stayed in Springfield to outline ground rules for the convention.

The Rules Committee will meet again this morning to complete its work and is expected to submit its proposals to the entire convention at this afternoon's session.

IF THE RULES are approved by the convention delegates, it's also possible that today's session will include election of a vice president or vice presidents.

One of the controversial rules proposals that forced the convention into recess last week involves the number of vice presidents to be elected.

The enabling legislation that set up the machinery for Con-Con calls for only one vice president, while the Constitution Study Commission, the legislature-appointed body charged with laying the convention groundwork, suggests two.

It seems likely, however, that the convention will decide to have three vice presidents, probably one each from Chicago, central Illinois and Southern Illinois.

A COOK COUNTY Republican, Samuel Witwer of Kenilworth, was elected convention president at last week's opening session, and the feeling among convention delegates is that vice presidents should represent other areas and political parties.

Prior to adjournment last week, delegates indicated in an informal show of hands that they prefer three vice presidents and the Rules Committee will make such a recommendation this afternoon.

Most frequently mentioned as possible vice presidents are former State Sen. Thomas Lyons of Chicago, a Democrat, and former State Sen. David Davis of Bloomington, a Republican. Lyons and Davis both were expected to be serious challengers to Witwer for convention president but Lyons changed his mind at the last minute and Davis received only 15 of 113 votes cast.

IT'S POSSIBLE that election of vice presidents may not come until tomorrow, however, since there are several other controversial rules proposals that may result in long debate today.

One of them determines the manner in which committee chairmen and committee members are selected.

The Rules Committee and the Study Commission both recommend that the president appoint chairmen and members.

However, some downstate delegates, fearful of dominance by Cook County if Witwer appoints, are urging that a Committee on Committees make the committee appointments. The Rules Committee vote was only 6-5 in favor of giving that power to the president and it's likely that the vote of the entire convention may be just as close.

The Study Commission is recommending that nine substantive committees be formed and that each delegate be appointed to one committee.

THE COMMITTEES, and their membership, include Bill of Rights, 15 members; Legislature, 11 members; Executive, 11 members; Judiciary, 11 members; Revenue and Finance, 15 members; Suffrage and Constitutional Amendment, 9 members; Local Government, 15 members; Education, 11 members; and General Government, 15 members.

Possible debate on this proposal may center around the suggestion that delegates serve only on one committee. Many delegates want to serve on more than one.

If all of the rules are approved today, the election of vice presidents and assignment to committees then will follow.

The probable progress of the convention the rest of this week would have committees organizing and making research assignments before adjourning for the Christmas holidays. Committee meetings are not expected to begin until after the first of the year.

ONE PROPOSAL WOULD have committee meetings finishing their basic research by February, leaving the convention about six months to finish its work.

The convention is expected to finish sometime in August with the new Constitution submitted to the voters in November.

Third Senatorial District delegates are John G. Woods and Mrs. Virginia Macdonald, both of Arlington Heights.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

'Guns Unnecessary'

BALTIMORE — Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower said yesterday only a limited number of Americans need pistols and the rest should be forbidden to have them.

"The day is coming," said Eisenhower, chairman of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, "when we are going to have a system of restrictive licensing so that those guns must be taken away from everyone except those who need them."

Migrant Housing Funds Sought

Funds will be sought to purchase 10 mobile homes to house Spanish-Americans presently living in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township.

A joint steering committee of village officials and members of the Neighbors at Work (NAW) organization reached this conclusion Monday morning.

Several sites in Elk Grove Village have been suggested, including the site of the municipal complex at Wellington Avenue and Biesterfeld Road, the industrial park area, and near Ned Brown Forest Preserve at Cosman Road.

THE COMMITTEE, chaired by Joseph Wellman of NAW, will seek funds, about $25,000, for the trailers, from other governmental units, including the township, county and state.

Village Pres. Jack Pahl was assigned the job of obtaining funds and working out legal ramifications.

The committee indicated it would use the aid of Robert Ibarra, coordinator for Spanish American groups in School Dist. 59, to find the people who will be housed in the mobile homes.

Two families which appear to be likely candidates are those of Anselmo DeLaGarza, who says he was bulldozed off the Klehm nursery Dec. 6 and Armando Gomez, the latest family to be taken in from substandard housing. Both families are housed at the Holiday Inn in Elk Grove Village.

THE COMMITTEE agreed the housing of the families in trailers in the village would be a temporary move until more permanent housing can be obtained.

Members of the committee who took part in Monday's meeting were Louis Archibald, Clyde Brooks and Wellman of Neighbors at Work, and Bill Koretke of the village human relations commission and New Communities, Inc., Richard McGreener, village trustee, and Al Broten, community services board chairman.

Also attending were the Rev. J. Ward Morrison, pastor of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church, Thomas Smith, executive director of community services, and Pahl.

Monday's meeting was an outcome of a Sunday meeting attended by some 125 persons at Queen of the Rosary Catholic School.

At the meeting, Brooks proposed formation of the steering committee which will again meet at 7 a.m. today in the village hall prior to making a recommendation to the village board at tonight's meeting.

Brooks, who is manpower director for the North Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), also proposed that the churches of Elk Grove Village agree to contribute a designated amount of money over an eight-month period.

THE MONEY WOULD be used for the needs of low-income people, including the day-to-day expenses of living in this "high-priced area," and for their housing and transportation needs.

He proposed a short-term housing program utilizing trailers for two years, followed by a program in which funds would be obtained from the state for low and moderate income housing in the village.

"No more than 22 per cent of the income of our poor people would go to rent," said Brooks.

As a start, he asked that 30 mobile units be brought into the village under jurisdiction of the village government and administered by a home development or improvement commission.

BROOKS SAID funds for projects such as this are available and that they can be administered under local control.

Charles Zettek, village trustee, said at the meeting that the problem of substandard housing has been one of his concerns for many years and that plans were formed to solve the problem four years ago but that they fell through.

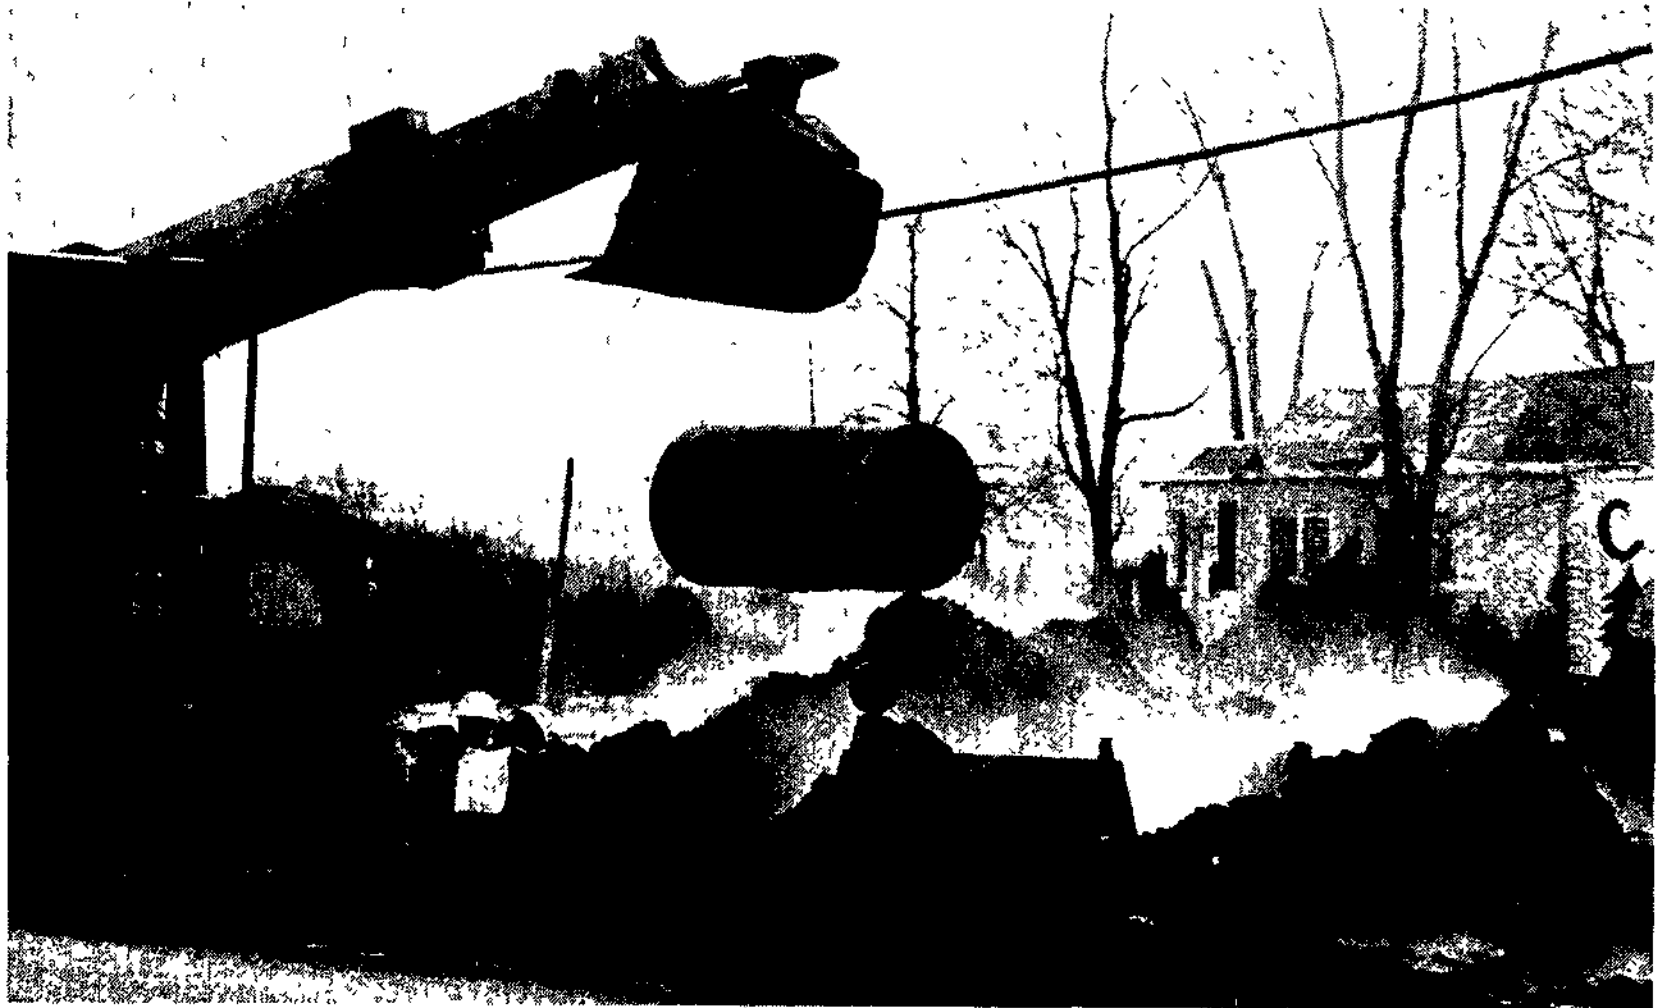

The plan included construction of A-frame homes on the Klehm nursery property south of Northwest Tollway. It did not come about because of inability to obtain financing and acreage, he said.

Zettek said that if it is possible to obtain housing for the Spanish-Americans he, as an individual, would work to bring it about.

Santa Numbers Told

Children in Elk Grove Village will have a chance this week to call Santa Claus. Wednesday and Thursday from 7:30 and 9 p.m. children may talk to Santa on the phone by calling his home number, 255-6144, or his work shop, 255-6146.

Santa's phone is sponsored by the Elk Grove Village Jaycees.

VAPOR RISING from the warm earth and the cold morning air can turn a suburban construction scene into a Japanese brush and ink painting. The construction work, now being done along Route 58 near Route 62, seems pretty as a picture unless you have to drive by it each day on the way to work.

Order Spot Check of Homes

George Dunne visited a substandard farmhouse in Elk Grove Township Sunday and Cook County authorities quickly ordered a spot survey for similar housing in unincorporated areas.

Dunne, president of the Cook County Board, said the house visited at 1031 Higgins Road was in "deplorable condition."

"It's a tragic thing when people have to live in such conditions," he said.

MRS. JULIE SASS of the Neighbors at Work organization in Elk Grove Village, took Dunne to the home of Armando Gomez, his wife, and 2-month-old child.

Neighbors at work became active after the tragic death of three children Nov. 29 in Elk Grove Township.

Sanitary facilities in the building were not functioning, and heat was obtained from a leaking fuel oil space heater, Mrs. Sass said.

The family was moved to the Holiday Inn Saturday night, and on Sunday a coffee hour was held at the home to show members of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church the conditions under which the family was living.

DUNNE SAID THAT when he learns the name of the owner, he will notify him that he must conform to the building code. He also acknowledged that a problem of where to house migrants exists.

In ordering a spot check of substandard dwellings in the county, Raymond Welsh, building commissioner, said:

"If any are found, a task force consisting of electricians, plumbers, and building inspectors will inspect areas for violations."

"Owners will be contacted and ordered to comply with the Cook County building ordinances," he added.

"If owners will not cooperate with my directive, the state's attorney's office will be contacted for possible court action," Welsh said.

HE SAID IF cases reach the courtroom stage, "I will recommend that any substandard structures be demolished at the owner's expense."

Welsh attended a meeting of the Neighbors at Work organization Sunday in Elk Grove Village, after which he told a reporter of his plans.

Welsh asked residents for information in finding substandard dwellings because of his department's limited manpower.

He said he has eight building inspectors responsible for 280 square miles of unincorporated Cook County.

Welsh said residents do not have to give their name, but only the information.

Welsh can be reached by telephone at 321-7922 or by writing his office, Room 309, Civic Center, Chicago.

Illegal U.S. Entry Charged To Two Men

Two Mexican immigrants were held by Elk Grove Village police last weekend and turned over to immigration authorities when it was learned they were here illegally, police said.

Police picked the men up Saturday when a sales clerk at Bantner's Elk Grove Drugs in the Park and Shop center in the village became suspicious.

ONE OF THE men attempted to purchase liquor with the aid of a selective service registration card that did not belong to him, police said.

Turned over to immigration authorities were Miguel Moran, 21, and Refugio Rivera, 26, both of Durango in Mexico.

They had been living in the Elk Grove Mobile Homes Park, 941 W. Higgins Road, Elk Grove Township.

Shooting Linked With Trial?

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy?"

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 23 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy?" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated, "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

Baby Dies of Pneumonia

The cause of death of a 4-month-old baby found dead Wednesday in a trailer park in Elk Grove Township, was diagnosed as bronchial pneumonia according to Elk Grove Village Health Inspector, Mrs. Barbara Watson.

Concern about the cause of death was raised after an Elk Grove Village fireman, who took the child by ambulance to St. Alexius Hospital, was given medication for spinal meningitis.

Dr. John Medved, the emergency doctor who handled the case said that he had taken precautionary measures with Fire Fighter Ray Hohman because he had given the child mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. He said, however, that chances were "very, very slim" that the child had meningitis.

The child, Theodore Ynacay, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Ynacay, 28

Charles Blvd., in the Elk Grove Mobile Homes Park, 941 W. Higgins Road.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Watson, who investigated the case, the precaution against meningitis was raised because the child's family had said that a cousin had died last Monday of meningitis.

However, it was determined that the cousin had not lived with the child who died Wednesday and there was no connection between the two cases.

Mrs. Watson said that it was also found that the child had been treated the day before his death at Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago, for bronchial pneumonia.

She added that parents refused permission for an autopsy, and no coroner's inquest was scheduled.

Hohman has returned to duty, according to Mrs. Watson.

A BRIEFCASE FULL of lamps is used by Wallace Berth, a Christmas lamp specialist for General Electric Co., to demonstrate his wares to potential customers. Berth, who lives in Buffalo Grove, has been involved with the sale of GE Christmas bulbs and light sets for about eight years.

He Brightens The Season

by ALAN AKERSON

The Christmas season for Wallace Berth of Buffalo Grove is an all-year thing. That's because he's responsible for General Electric Co.'s Christmas lamp sales in eight Midwestern and Western states.

Christmas lamp sales "are definitely a year-round business," Berth said. "I'm talking to my first nationwide customer for the 1970 Christmas season later this week."

Berth began selling Christmas lamps for GE in 1961, when the company decided to get into the Christmas lamp business on a large scale. Before that, GE did little more than supply replacement bulbs.

However, the onslaught of imported Christmas lamps forced the firm to decide whether it wanted to remain in the market solidly or leave the Christmas lamp field entirely. GE chose to stay in.

"IN THOSE days I was responsible for Christmas lamp sales in 22 states," Berth recalled.

Today GE's Christmas lamp sales total about $25 million nationwide, Berth said. Each year, about 200 million GE Christmas bulbs are purchased.

"I'm responsible for the sale of about 30 million to 40 million bulbs and about 450,000 Christmas lamp sets," Berth said.

"Often we get charged with 'commercializing' Christmas," Berth said. "But we feel we're filling a consumer need for good, safe Christmas lamps."

Berth said the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with colored lights began shortly after World War I. "Before bulbs were introduced, people decorated their trees with candles or else they didn't use anything."

"THOSE WERE the days of the traditional Christmas trees when people decorated with things like candy canes and popcorn strings. Only the brave ones put candles on the tree."

The first bulbs used were the full-sized, fluted kind, Berth said. "They were the ones where, if one bulb burned out, the whole set went off." Various other bulbs began appearing on the market shortly before World War II.

Berth said the trend toward miniature lights began about 15 years ago when they began to be imported from Italy.

TODAY, BERTH said, the miniature lamps account for about 35 per cent of GE's Christmas lamp sales nationwide. "The percentage is much higher in the Chicago area though," Berth added.

He said about 70 per cent of his company's sales of Christmas lamp sets in the Chicago area comes from the sale of miniature lights.

"One reason the miniature lamps are so popular here," said Berth, "is that Chicago's Michigan Avenue has been decorated with them for the last 10 years or so."

rated with them for the last 10 years or so."

In decorating Christmas trees and homes, Berth said, "there is no right or wrong way to decorate. Just use taste, common sense and safety."

Berth said that most Christmas tree fires result from frayed or poor Christmas lamp wiring. "People tend to hold onto their old light sets forever. They're handed down from father to son. I don't know why; new sets aren't that expensive."

THE CHRISTMAS lamp market is a growing one, Berth believes. Among the reasons behind the growth, Berth cited both the increasing number of homeowners decorating their homes and the new kinds of light continually being introduced.

"In 1961, when we entered the market on a large scale, only about 15 per cent of the homes in the country had some sort of exterior lighting decorations. In 1968, that figure stands at 35 per cent."

The biggest single trend in Christmas lamp sales today is undoubtedly the increasing number of miniature lamps being sold. But there are others.

"Now there is a move toward figuring and fancy lightings. This first occurred in the 1930's but died down until recently." He said that sets with lamps of a single color also are becoming more popular.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT OF the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorsed any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage roads for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soo Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement which calls for state highway supervision of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

TRAFFIC WHIZZES by MacArthur Junior High School near Schoenbeck Road. The car in the foreground is on the north frontage road of the mini-expressway. The frontage road was the location of last week's fatal accident which claimed the life of a MacArthur student.

Set Year-End Meet

The Northwest Municipal Conference will use its December meeting to plan for its annual "new-year" dinner in January and wrap up some loose ends from 1969.

Conference Pres. Robert Atcher predicted transportation will again take up a majority of business Wednesday. Member mayors and managers meet at 6 p.m. in the new Wheeling Village Hall, 255 W. Dundas Rd.

"Our principal push will be to get lined up for the January dinner and officers' installation," Atcher said. "Then we'll see what we can do about forward motion in some areas we have faltered in, like our transportation study."

Noting that the conference has failed to find a man who could head a transportation study free to the conference, he said he may repeat his earlier suggestion to finance the study through local motor fuel taxes.

ATCHER SAID he may also appoint a committee to follow up an earlier program on refuse disposal. The committee should reach some conclusion on how Rolling Meadows' refuse disposal can best serve people of the entire northwest, he said.

The Schaumburg village president referred to Rolling Meadows going into the scavenger service by buying its own garbage trucks and hiring its own pick-up men.

Atcher said that Jan. 22 has been set as the tentative date for its annual meeting, though this will have to be approved by the membership.

The date falls on a Thursday, rather than the regular third Wednesday, but that is the only date the large Arlington Towers facility is available, he said.

5 Contests Shaping Up In Election

Five contests, four of them in the Democratic party, were shaping up Monday for the March 17 election of township committeemen.

On the last day of filing petitions of nomination, the Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine and Hanover Township incumbent Democratic committeemen all had an opponent.

The only fight in Republican ranks is three contenders for the committeeman post in Hanover township that Eugene Devitt is resigning.

Herman Koeneeman of Arlington Heights has filed petitions opposing Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James L. McCabe, Charles J. DePaul of Hoffman Estates is opposing Schaumburg Township Democratic Committeeman John F. Morrissey.

IN PALATINE Township, Richard A. Mugalian of Palatine is going against incumbent Democratic Committeeman Peter J. Gerling Sr. and in Hanover Township, Thomas J. McCarter is opposing Democratic Committeeman James Cullen.

Elk Grove Township Democratic Committeeman Chester Chesney and Barrington Township Democratic Committeeman William J. Payes were both unopposed Monday.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

Elk Grove policeman involved in the fatal fire were William Lancaster, Robert Salvatore, Sgt. Raymond Marnece, Sgt. William Kohnke, and Police Chief Harry Jenkins.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Condition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON—The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Boy Makes Punt, Pass, Kick Finals

by PAUL LOGAN

When the Punt, Pass and Kick contest began early last October, 1,650,000 boys signed up. Now only 12 remain in the competition.

And of the dozen young players, two in each of the six age groups, one is a Paddock-area youngster Mike Marshall of Buffalo Grove.

The 9-year-old athlete, the son of the Frank L. Marshalls of 427 Hiawatha Drive, qualified for the national finals last Sunday afternoon during the halftime of the Detroit Lion-Los Angeles Ram game at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. Mike is a fourth-grader at the Kilmer School in Buffalo Grove.

Mike was accompanied to Detroit on Saturday by his father and Jerry Centoni, a salesman for Poole Ford at Arlington Heights, a co-sponsor of the contest along with the National Football League.

THE YOUNGSTER was one of six boys that represented the Chicago Bears' area in the Western Division showdown. In all, there were half a dozen (ages 8 to 13) from each of the eight Western Division teams of 48 boys.

Mike and his five foes in the 9-year-old bracket competed at the same time as the other levels on Sunday morning. Each boy punted and place kicked the football. After these events were completed, the two boys with the top scores were allowed to vie for the No. 1 position during the halftime show that afternoon. Naturally, Mike was one of the two 9-year-olds who outdistanced the others in the combined distance of the two kicks.

Only the passing event remained. When it concluded that afternoon, Mike's passing distance, combined with his previous kicking lengths, defeated his opponent by eight feet.

MIKE RECEIVED a large trophy for his efforts, which he added to the ones he won at the local, zonal, and district levels. And, more importantly, he won for himself, his parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Centoni a trip to Florida.

Around the first of January, the Centonis, representing Poole Ford, and the Marshalls will fly to Miami. There, on Jan. 3, Mike will try to capture the national Punt, Pass and Kick title for nine year olds. He will be competing against the Eastern Division winner, a lad from Atlanta, Ga. The Eastern champion was crowned last Saturday when a similar contest was held during halftime of the Dallas Cowboy game in Dallas.

Mike and his Atlanta football foe will try for the large trophy and the honors that go with it in the Orange Bowl. The game will be televised nationally, so Paddock-area rooters as well as Chicago area fans will be able to pull for Chicago's only entrant in the finals.

BESIDE THE bowl appearance, Mike and his group will be treated to several fun-filled excursions including a trip to Cape Kennedy, Fla., where he'll meet some astronauts, and a fishing expedition.

Mike's success so far this year can be attributed in part to the experience he gained from 1968's contest. That year he took the local 8-year-old title and got to the zone wars before being defeated.

This year he whizzed through the local and zone meets and captured the district title in Wrigley Field. So when he goes before the large crowd in the Orange Bowl Jan. 3, it will be his third pro football crowd.

Few area players have ever played before as many people in an entire high school career.

Post Offices Feel Holiday Mail Rush

The Christmas rush is on in post offices across the country, and mailmen in Wheeling and Buffalo Grove are in the middle of it. Yesterday was "The Day" to mail Christmas cards, according to Edward Swan, Wheeling postmaster.

"A mailbox located at the Ranch Mart Shopping Center in Buffalo Grove was so full that people couldn't jam another letter into it," Swan said.

A special collection was made after people started taking their letters into the post office substation. The postmaster estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 pieces of mail had been taken from the stuffed mailbox.

IN WHEELING on Saturday, patrons

trying to buy stamps and mail packages were lined up into the street, Swan said. The postmaster said that he had never seen the lines as long as they were Saturday.

The post office is operating at "full capacity" and the mail is being delivered as fast as it is being received, Swan said.

Three extra helpers already have begun work at the post office, and five more persons are scheduled to begin work Friday.

Deadlines for mailing packages overseas by surface and air mail have already passed. Even mail sent within the Chicago metropolitan area should be mailed by Dec. 20 if it is to be delivered by Christmas, Swan advised area residents.

THE POSTMASTER explained that the strain of overcrowding in the post office's rented quarters is especially acute during the holidays. A new post office building is being built on Dundee Road across from the village's new municipal building.

Swan said that facilities in the new building will make handling mail for the growing Wheeling-Buffalo Grove area easier. For example, five windows to sell stamps and mail packages will be available in the new building instead of the three in the present post office.

The new building will be ready for the post office next August, Swan estimated.

He Brightens Holidays

by ALAN AKERSON

The Christmas season for Wallace Berth of Buffalo Grove is an all-year thing. That's because he's responsible for General Electric Co.'s Christmas lamp sales in eight Midwestern and Western states.

Christmas lamp sales "are definitely a year-round business," Berth said. "I'm talking to my first nationwide customer for the 1970 Christmas season later this week."

Berth began selling Christmas lamps for GE in 1961, when the company decided to get into the Christmas lamp business on a large scale. Before that, GE did little more than supply replacement bulbs.

However, the onslaught of imported Christmas lamps forced the firm to decide whether it wanted to remain in the market solidly or leave the Christmas lamp field entirely. GE chose to stay in.

"IN THOSE days I was responsible for Christmas lamp sales in 22 states," Berth recalled.

Today GE's Christmas lamp sales total about $25 million nationwide, Berth said. Each year, about 200 million GE Christmas bulbs are purchased.

"I'm responsible for the sale of about 30 million to 40 million bulbs and about 450,000 Christmas lamp sets," Berth said. "Often we get charged with 'commercializing' Christmas," Berth said. "But we feel we're filling a consumer need for good, safe Christmas lamps."

Berth said the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with colored lights began shortly after World War I. "Before bulbs were introduced, people decorated their trees with candles or else they didn't use anything."

"THOSE WERE the days of the traditional Christmas trees when people decorated with things like candy canes and popcorn strings into the brave ones put candles on the tree."

The first bulbs used were the full-sized, fluted kind, Berth said. "They were the ones where, if one bulb burned out, the whole set went off." Various other bulbs began appearing on the market shortly before World War II.

Berth said the trend toward miniature lights began about 15 years ago when they began to be imported from Italy.

TODAY, BERTH said, the miniature lamps account for about 35 per cent of GE's Christmas lamp sales nationwide. "The percentage is much higher in the Chicago area though," Berth added.

He said about 70 per cent of his company's sales of Christmas lamp sets in the Chicago area comes from the sale of miniature lights.

"One reason the miniature lamps are so popular here," said Berth, "is that Chicago's Michigan Avenue has been decorated with them for the last 10 years or so."

In decorating Christmas trees and homes, Berth said, "there is no right or wrong way to decorate. Just use taste, common sense and safety."

Berth said that most Christmas tree fires result from frayed or poor Christmas lamp wiring. "People tend to hold onto their old light sets forever. They're handed down from father to son. I don't know why; new sets aren't that expensive."

THE CHRISTMAS lamp market is a growing one, Berth believes. Among the reasons behind the growth, Berth cited both the increasing number of homeowners decorating their homes and the new kinds of light continually being introduced.

"In 1961, when we entered the market on a large scale, only about 15 per cent of the homes in the country had some sort of exterior lighting decorations. In 1969, that figure stands at 35 per cent."

The biggest single trend in Christmas lamp sales today is undoubtedly the increasing number of miniature lamps being sold. But there are others.

"Now there is a move toward figuring and fancy lightings. This first occurred in the 1930's but died down until recently." He said that sets with lamps of a single color also are becoming more popular.

Report School Theft

Approximately $17 worth of items belonging to Wheeling High School exchange student Marilyn Janks of South Africa was reported stolen Friday. A South African flag and an African wooden letter opener belonging to Miss Janks were taken from a showcase at the school.

Park Seeking Volunteers

The Buffalo Grove Park District is looking for volunteers from all parts of the village to form a citizens committee on park programs.

As well as reviewing present park programs and suggesting new ones the committee members would also be asked to help publicize the district's programs.

The request for committee volunteers came from Mrs. Dede Armstrong, the park commissioner who heads the district's park programs planning committee.

MRS. ARMSTRONG, in outlining plans for the new committee, said, the purpose of the committee would be to "have residents come forth and talk about what they would like in park programs."

She added, "We need more citizen interest in the park programs. I feel that if we had this committee we would be able to have a more responsive set of park programs."

Mrs. Armstrong said that after the committee was organized it would meet about once a month. She urged residents living in all parts of Buffalo Grove to volunteer for the group.

Besides advising the district on park programs the committee would also handle publicity for the programs including accompanying clerical jobs.

BEFORE THE FORMATION of the park district last September in a referendum, most of the park commissioners candidates suggested volunteer workers from the village as one of the means to operate the new park district.

Mrs. Armstrong asked that interested residents notify her at 537-7346.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT of the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorsed any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soo Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervisor of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

TOYLAND COMES TO LIFE in the Dist. 26 River Trails Junior High School play entitled "Christmas Caper." Marelyn Ratnar, speech and drama teacher, wrote the play which features three hoodlums on a mission to find the "spirit of Christmas." Judith Boss, art instructor, designed the sets for the play, and William Kuehl, band instructor, wrote and directed the music. Actors and actresses are members of the fine arts production class, a credited course. The play was presented at the Prospect Heights school Saturday.

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1969, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

GIs Thank London Students

Servicemen around the globe are writing students and staff at Jack London Junior High School in Wheeling to thank them for candy sent them for Christmas.

A typical letter was that written by Marine Cpl. Terry Toerpe, stationed in Vietnam. In a letter to London Principal Gerald Kiffel, Toerpe wrote, "Everyone in the office says thanks. We took all the candy we wanted and I took the rest to the children's hospital."

Cpl. Terry Toerpe

CORPORAL TOERPE, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mirecki of Wheeling, graduated from London Junior High. He has been in the Marine Corps since July, 1968, and has been stationed in Vietnam since September.

London students last month held a drive to collect candy to send to servicemen for Christmas. Approximately 60 boxes of hard candy were collected and shipped to London graduates and other Wheeling-area servicemen.

The school has conducted the drive for the last five years.

Group Named To Talk Pay

Four Dist. 21 school officials were appointed by the school board Thursday to negotiate the 1970-71 salary settlement with the faculty.

Appointed were Supt. Kenneth Gill, Asst. Supt. John Barger, Personnel Director Donald Brown and Field School Principal Gus Nizzi.

The team will also meet with Dist. 21 principals to exchange data regarding salary levels of principals in surrounding school districts and additional information.

The board appointed a budget committee to work on the 1970-71 budget. Named to the committee were Gill, Barger and Walter Fuller, business manager.

5 Contests Shaping Up In Election

Five contests, four of them in the Democratic party, were shaping up Monday for the March 17 election of township committeemen.

On the last day of filing petitions of nomination, the Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine and Hanover Township incumbent Democratic committeemen all had an opponent.

The only fight in Republican ranks is three contenders for the committeeman post in Hanover township that Eugene Devitt is resigning.

Herman Koenenman of Arlington Heights has filed petitions opposing Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James L. McCabe. Charles J. DePaul of Hoffman Estates is opposing Schaumburg Township Democratic Committeeman John F. Morrissey.

IN PALATINE Township, Richard A. Mugalian of Palatine is going against incumbent Democratic Committeeman Peter J. Gerling Sr. and in Hanover Township, Thomas J. McCarter is opposing Democratic Committeeman James Cullen.

Elk Grove Township Democratic Committeeman Chester Chesney and Barrington Township Democratic Committeeman William J. Payes were both unopposed Monday.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinnagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Republican committeeman unopposed in March are: Richard A. Cowen, Wheeling Township; Donald L. Totten, Schaumburg Township; Bernard E. Pedersen, Palatine Township; Carl R. Hansen, Elk Grove Township and Harold B. Smith Jr., Barrington Township.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinnagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Vandals Break Church Window

Vandals broke a large frosted plate-glass window at the First Baptist Church of Wheeling at Elmhurst Road and Edward St. last weekend.

The Rev. Stanley Dill reported the broken window to police at 9 a.m. Sunday. The window was broken sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday police reported.

Police said parts of a broken beer bottle were found inside the church and reported that the bottle had apparently been thrown through the window.

Group Sets Low-Cost Homes Talk

Low and moderate-income housing will be discussed tonight by a steering committee formed from the Dec. 5 housing conference sponsored by the Ad-Hoc Northwest Suburban Committee for Better Housing.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

The formation of a permanent committee to work for low and moderate-income housing in the area will be discussed, according to Rudy Hazucha, spokesman for the committee.

Hazucha said "40 or 45" persons indicated at the Dec. 5 conference that they were interested in being on the steering committee.

"WE MUST have a broad representation of people from every village and group in the area," Hazucha said. He said that the response from local industries was "not real good."

"About 15 or 18 firms responded in one way or another," he stated.

He added that if a permanent committee is formed, it will discuss its goals and methods of implementing them at a meeting next month.

Driver Hurt, Auto Demolished

Kathleen E. Czerniak, 27, of 120 N. Wolf Rd., Wheeling, was treated and released for minor injuries at Northwest Community Hospital following an accident at 5:22 a.m. Sunday in Wheeling in which the car she was driving was demolished.

The accident occurred on the east side of Milwaukee Avenue one-half block south of Dundee Road.

Police said the car, southbound on Milwaukee Avenue, had just crossed Dundee Road when it skidded and hit a traffic control sign and a tree.

A police sergeant in pursuit of the car estimated the car's speed at 95 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Police charged the driver with speeding and with improper lane usage. She will appear Jan. 20 in Arlington Heights District Court in connection with the charges.

Set Year-End Meet

The Northwest Municipal Conference will use its December meeting to plan for its annual "new-year" dinner in January and wrap up some loose ends from 1969.

Conference Pres. Robert Atcher predicted transportation will again take up a majority of business Wednesday. Member mayors and managers meet at 8 p.m. in the new Wheeling Village Hall, 255 W. Dundee Rd.

"Our principal push will be to get lined up for the January dinner and officers installation," Atcher said. "Then we'll see what we can do about forward motion in some areas we have faltered in, like our transportation study."

Noting that the conference has failed to find a man who could head a transportation study free to the conference, he said he may repeat his earlier suggestion to finance the study through local motor fuel taxes.

ATCHER SAID he may also appoint a committee to follow up an earlier program on refuse disposal. The committee should reach some conclusion on how Rolling Meadows' refuse disposal can best serve people of the entire northwest, he said.

The Schaumburg village president referred to Rolling Meadows going into the scavenger service by buying its own garbage trucks and hiring its own pick-up men.

Atcher said that Jan. 22 has been set as the tentative date for its annual meeting, though this will have to be approved by the membership.

The date falls on a Thursday, rather than the regular third Wednesday, but that is the only date the large Arlington Towers facility is available, he said.

Trial-Death Link Hinted

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy 7" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy 7" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated. "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

MSD engineering department.

However a committee meeting of the MSD Board of Trustees last Thursday, the trustees overruled the rejection. It has been the policy of the engineering department to reject all sewer permit requests in the area operated by CU, but the trustees have overruled this policy in several instances where the request adds a minor load to the system.

The park district met no trouble in securing a sewer permit for the bath house at Woodland Park because that area lies outside of the CU district, and will hook up directly to an MSD interceptor on Wolf Road.

Extend Road Protest Deadline

The Prospect Heights Plan Commission, an informal group formed to protest the Golf-Rand route of the proposed North Suburban Expressway, has extended the deadline for local organizations to respond to a form letter mailed last month.

Golf and Rand roads are one of several routes being studied by the state for a six-lane expressway that will slice across the Northwest suburbs from Evanston to Palatine. This route may run 1.5 miles east of Rand Road and divide Prospect Heights in half.

The commission's letter requested each organization to send a letter to the commission stating its position on the Golf-Rand route for the expressway. These letters will be forwarded to the state highway division.

THE ORIGINAL DATE set for replies to the commission's letter was yesterday. However, only 15 replies have been received, approximately half the number of letters sent out. The new deadline is the end of this year.

Bill Williams, chairman of the commission, has announced that an open meeting will be held sometime next month, at which routes will be set up to circulate petitions protesting the Golf-Rand route. The petitions will be forwarded to the state together with the letters from local organizations.

sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorses any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soo Lane tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervision of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

'Holiday at Home' At Frost School

"A Holiday at Home," a Christmas play in song and verse, will be presented Thursday by primary-grade children at Robert Frost School in Prospect Heights.

The program will begin at 2:15 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Parents of first, second and third-grade children are invited to attend the performance.

THE PLAY RECREATES a Christmas in the early 1900s as it follows an American family and its holiday traditions and activities.

Props and sets for the play have been gathered and designed by upper grade students. The play was written and directed by Miss Ann Foley, vocal music teacher at the elementary school.

A BRIEFCASE FULL of lamps is used by Wallace Berth, a Christmas lamp specialist for General Electric Co., to demonstrate his wares to potential customers. Berth, who lives in Buffalo Grove, has been involved with the sale of GE Christmas bulbs and light sets for about eight years.

TOYLAND COMES TO LIFE in the Dist. 26 River Trails Junior High School play entitled "Christmas Caper." Marjelyn Ratner, speech and drama teacher, wrote the play which features three hoodlums on a mission to find the "spirit of Christmas." Judith Boss, art instructor, designed the sets for the play, and William Kuehl, band instructor, wrote and directed the music. Actors and actresses are members of the fine arts production class, a credited course. The play was presented at the Prospect Heights school Saturday.

Trial-Death Link Hinted

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy 7" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 90 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy 7" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated. "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong"

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

GIs Thank London Students

Servicemen around the globe are writing students and staff at Jack London Junior High School in Wheeling to thank them for candy sent them for Christmas.

A typical letter was that written by Marine Cpl. Terry Toerpe, stationed in Vietnam. In a letter to London Principal Gerald Kiffel, Toerpe wrote, "Everyone in the office says thanks. We took all the candy we wanted and I took the rest to the children's hospital."

Group Named To Talk Pay

Four Dist. 21 school officials were appointed by the school board Thursday to negotiate the 1970-71 salary settlement with the faculty.

Appointed were Supt. Kenneth Gill, Asst. Supt. John Barger, Personnel Director Donald Brown and Field School Principal Gus Nizzi.

The team will also meet with Dist. 21 principals to exchange data regarding salary levels of principals in surrounding school districts and additional information.

The board appointed a budget committee to work on the 1970-71 budget. Named to the committee were Gill, Barger and Walter Fuller, business manager.

5 Contests Shaping Up In Election

Five contests, four of them in the Democratic party, were shaping up Monday for the March 17 election of township committeemen.

On the last day of filing petitions of nomination, the Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine and Hanover Township incumbent Democratic committeemen all had an opponent.

The only fight in Republican ranks is three contenders for the committeeman post in Hanover township that Eugene Devitt is resigning.

Herman Koenenman of Arlington Heights has filed petitions opposing Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James L. McCabe. Charles J. DePaul of Hoffman Estates is opposing Schaumburg Township Democratic Committeeman John F. Morrissey.

IN PALATINE Township, Richard A. Mugalian of Palatine is going against incumbent Democratic Committeeman Peter J. Gerling Sr. and in Hanover Township, Thomas J. McCarter is opposing Democratic Committeeman James Cullen.

Elk Grove Township Democratic Committeeman Chester Chesney and Barrington Township Democratic Committeeman William J. Payes were both unopposed Monday.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Vandals Break Church Window

Vandals broke a large frosted plate-glass window at the First Baptist Church of Wheeling at Elmhurst Road and Edward St. last weekend.

The Rev. Stanley Dill reported the broken window to police at 8 a.m. Sunday. The window was broken sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday police reported.

Police said parts of a broken beer bottle were found inside the church and reported that the bottle had apparently been thrown through the window.

Group Sets Low-Cost Homes Talk

Low and moderate-income housing will be discussed tonight by a steering committee formed from the Dec. 5 housing conference sponsored by the Ad-Hoc Northwest Suburban Committee for Better Housing.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

The formation of a permanent committee to work for low and moderate-income housing in the area will be discussed, according to Rudy Hazucha, spokesman for the committee.

Hazucha said "40 or 45" persons indicated at the Dec. 5 conference that they were interested in being on the steering committee.

"WE MUST have a broad representation of people from every village and group in the area," Hazucha said. He said that the response from local industries was "not real good."

"About 15 or 18 firms responded in one way or another," he stated.

He added that if a permanent committee is formed, it will discuss its goals and methods of implementing them at a meeting next month.

Driver Hurt, Auto Demolished

Kathleen E. Czerniak, 27, of 120 N. Wolf Rd., Wheeling, was treated and released for minor injuries at Northwest Community Hospital following an accident at 5.22 a.m. Sunday in Wheeling in which the car she was driving was demolished.

The accident occurred on the east side of Milwaukee Avenue one-half block south of Dundee Road.

Police said the car, southbound on Milwaukee Avenue, had just crossed Dundee Road when it skidded and hit a traffic control sign and a tree.

A police sergeant in pursuit of the car estimated the car's speed at 95 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Police charged the driver with speeding and with improper lane usage. She will appear Jan. 20 in Arlington Heights District Court in connection with the charges.

Set Year-End Meet

The Northwest Municipal Conference will use its December meeting to plan for its annual "new-year" dinner in January and wrap up some loose ends from 1969.

Conference Pres. Robert Atcher predicted transportation will again take up a majority of business Wednesday. Member mayors and managers meet at 8 p.m. in the new Wheeling Village Hall, 255 W. Dundee Rd.

"Our principal push will be to get lined up for the January dinner and officers installation," Atcher said. "Then we'll see what we can do about forward motion in some areas we have faltered in, like our transportation study."

Noting that the conference has failed to find a man who could head a transportation study free to the conference, he said he may repeat his earlier suggestion to finance the study through local motor fuel taxes.

ATCHER SAID he may also appoint a committee to follow up an earlier program on refuse disposal. The committee should reach some conclusion on how Rolling Meadows' refuse disposal can best serve people of the entire northwest, he said.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON—The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Boy Makes Punt, Pass, Kick Finals

by PAUL LOGAN

When the Punt, Pass and Kick contest began early last October, 1,050,000 boys signed up. Now only 12 remain in the competition.

And of the dozen young players, two in each of the six age groups, one is a Paddock-area youngster Mike Marshall of Buffalo Grove.

The 9-year-old athlete, the son of the Frank L. Marshalls of 427 Hiawatha Drive, qualified for the national finals last Sunday afternoon during the halftime of the Detroit Lion-Los Angeles Ram game at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. Mike is a fourth-grader at the Kilmer School in Buffalo Grove.

Mike was accompanied to Detroit on Saturday by his father and Jerry Centoni, a salesman for Poole Ford at Arlington Heights, a co-sponsor of the contest along with the National Football League.

THE YOUNGSTER was one of six boys that represented the Chicago Bears' area in the Western Division showdown. In all, there were half a dozen (ages 8 to 13) from each of the eight Western Division teams of 48 boys.

Mike and his five foes in the 9-year-old bracket competed at the same time as the other levels on Sunday morning. Each boy pointed and place kicked the football. After these events were completed, the two boys with the top scores were allowed to vie for the No. 1 position during the halftime show that afternoon. Naturally, Mike was one of the two 9-year-olds who outdistanced the others in the combined distance of the two kicks.

Only the passing event remained. When it concluded that afternoon, Mike's passing distance, combined with his previous kicking lengths, defeated his opponent by eight feet.

MIKE RECEIVED a large trophy for his efforts, which he added to the ones he won at the local, zonal, and district levels. And, more importantly, he won for himself, his parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Centoni a trip to Florida.

Around the first of January, the Centonis, representing Poole Ford, and the Marshalls will fly to Miami. There, on Jan. 3, Mike will try to capture the national Punt, Pass and Kick title for nine year olds. He will be competing against the Eastern Division winner, a lad from Atlanta, Ga. The Eastern champion was crowned last Saturday when a similar contest was held during halftime of the Dallas Cowboy game in Dallas.

Mike and his Atlanta football foe will try for the large trophy and the honors that go with it in the Orange Bowl. The game will be televised nationally, so Paddock-area rooters as well as Chicago area fans will be able to pull for Chicago's only entrant in the finals.

BESIDE THE bowl appearance, Mike and his group will be treated to several fun-filled excursions including a trip to Cape Kennedy, Fla., where he'll meet some astronauts, and a fishing expedition. Mike's success so far this year can be attributed in part to the experience he gained from 1968's contest. That year he took the local 8-year-old title and got to the zone wars before being defeated.

This year he whizzed through the local and zone meets and captured the district title in Wrigley Field. So when he goes before the large crowd in the Orange Bowl Jan. 3, it will be his third pro football crowd.

Few area players have ever played before as many people in an entire high school career.

Post Offices Feel Holiday Mail Rush

The Christmas rush is on in post offices across the country, and mailmen in Wheeling and Buffalo Grove are in the middle of it. Yesterday was "The Day" to mail Christmas cards, according to Edward Swan, Wheeling postmaster.

"A mailbox located at the Ranch Mart Shopping Center in Buffalo Grove was so full that people couldn't jam another letter into it," Swan said.

A special collection was made after people started taking their letters into the post office substation. The postmaster estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 pieces of mail had been taken from the stuffed mailbox.

IN WHEELING on Saturday, patrons

trying to buy stamps and mail packages were lined up into the street, Swan said. The postmaster said that he had never seen the lines as long as they were Saturday.

The post office is operating at "full capacity" and the mail is being delivered as fast as it is being received, Swan said.

Three extra helpers already have begun work at the post office, and five more persons are scheduled to begin work Friday.

Deadlines for mailing packages overseas by surface and air mail have already passed. Even mail sent within the Chicago metropolitan area should be mailed by Dec. 20 if it is to be delivered by Christmas, Swan advised area residents.

THE POSTMASTER explained that the strain of overcrowding in the post office's rented quarters is especially acute during the holidays. A new post office building is being built on Dundee Road across from the village's new municipal building.

Swan said that facilities in the new building will make handling mail for the growing Wheeling-Buffalo Grove area easier. For example, five windows to sell stamps and mail packages will be available in the new building instead of the three in the present post office.

The new building will be ready for the post office next August, Swan estimated.

He Brightens Holidays

by ALAN AKERSON

The Christmas season for Wallace Berth of Buffalo Grove is an all-year thing. That's because he's responsible for General Electric Co.'s Christmas lamp sales in eight Midwestern and Western states.

Christmas lamp sales "are definitely a year-round business," Berth said. "I'm talking to my first nationwide customer for the 1970 Christmas season later this week."

Berth began selling Christmas lamps for GE in 1961, when the company decided to get into the Christmas lamp business on a large scale. Before that, GE did little more than supply replacement bulbs.

However, the onslaught of imported Christmas lamps forced the firm to decide whether it wanted to remain in the market solidly or leave the Christmas lamp field entirely. GE chose to stay in.

"IN THOSE days I was responsible for Christmas lamp sales in 22 states," Berth recalled.

Today GE's Christmas lamp sales total about $25 million nationwide, Berth said. Each year, about 200 million GE Christmas lamps are purchased.

"I'm responsible for the sale of about 30 million to 40 million bulbs and about 450,000 Christmas lamp sets," Berth said.

"Often we get charged with 'commercializing' Christmas," Berth said. "But we feel we're filling a consumer need for good, safe Christmas lamps."

Berth said the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with colored lights began shortly after World War I. "Before bulbs were introduced, people decorated their trees with candles or else they didn't use anything."

"THOSE WERE the days of the traditional Christmas trees when people decorated with things like candy canes and popcorn strings. Only the brave ones put candles on the tree."

The first bulbs used were the full-sized, fluted kind, Berth said. "They were the ones where, if one bulb burned out, the whole set went off." Various other bulbs began appearing on the market shortly before World War II.

Berth said the trend toward miniature lights began about 15 years ago when they began to be imported from Italy.

TODAY, BERTH said, the miniature lamps account for about 35 per cent of GE's Christmas lamp sales nationwide. "The percentage is much higher in the Chicago area though," Berth added.

He said about 70 per cent of his company's sales of Christmas lamp sets in the Chicago area comes from the sale of miniature lights.

"One reason the miniature lamps are so popular here," said Berth, "is that Chicago's Michigan Avenue has been decorated with them for the last 10 years or so."

In decorating Christmas trees and homes, Berth said, "there is no right or wrong way to decorate. Just use taste, common sense and safety."

Berth said that most Christmas tree fires result from frayed or poor Christmas lamp wiring. "People tend to hold onto their old light sets forever. They're handed down from father to son. I don't know why; new sets aren't that expensive."

THE CHRISTMAS lamp market is a growing one, Berth believes. Among the reasons behind the growth, Berth cited both the increasing number of homeowners decorating their homes and the new kinds of light continually being introduced.

"In 1961, when we entered the market on a large scale, only about 15 per cent of the homes in the country had some sort of exterior lighting decorations. In 1969, that figure stands at 35 per cent."

The biggest single trend in Christmas lamp sales today is undoubtedly the increasing number of miniature lamps being sold. But there are others.

"Now there is a move toward figuring and fancy lightings. This first occurred in the 1930's but died down until recently," he said that sets with lamps of a single color also are becoming more popular.

Report School Theft

Approximately $17 worth of items belonging to Wheeling High School exchange student Marilyn Janks of South Africa was reported stolen Friday. A South African flag and an African wooden letter opener belonging to Miss Janks were taken from a showcase at the school.

Park Seeking Volunteers

The Buffalo Grove Park District is looking for volunteers from all parts of the village to form a citizens committee on park programs.

As well as reviewing present park programs and suggesting new ones the committee members would also be asked to help publicize the district's programs.

The request for committee volunteers came from Mrs. Dede Armstrong, the park commissioner who heads the district's park programs planning committee.

MRS. ARMSTRONG, in outlining plans for the new committee, said, the purpose of the committee would be to "have residents come forth and talk about what they would like in park programs."

She added, "We need more citizen interest in the park programs. I feel that if we had this committee we would be able to have a more responsive set of park programs."

Mrs. Armstrong said that after the committee was organized it would meet about once a month. She urged residents living in all parts of Buffalo Grove to volunteer for the group.

Besides advising the district on park programs the committee would also handle publicity for the programs including accompanying clerical jobs.

BEFORE THE FORMATION of the park district last September in a referendum, most of the park commissioners candidates suggested volunteer workers from the village as one of the means to operate the new park district.

Mrs. Armstrong asked that interested residents notify her at 537-7346.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT OF the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorses any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the So Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervisor of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

A typical letter was that written by Marine Cpl. Terry Toerpe, stationed in Vietnam. In a letter to London Principal Gerald Kiffel, Toerpe wrote, "Everyone in the office says thanks. We took all the candy we wanted and I took the rest to the children's hospital."

Cpl. Terry Toerpe

CORPORAL TOERPE, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mirecki of Wheeling, graduated from London Junior High. He has been in the Marine Corps since July, 1968, and has been stationed in Vietnam since September.

London students last month held a drive to collect candy to send to servicemen for Christmas. Approximately 60 boxes of hard candy were collected and shipped to London graduates and other Wheeling-area servicemen.

The school has conducted the drive for the last five years.

Group Named To Talk Pay

Four Dist. 21 school officials were appointed by the school board Thursday to negotiate the 1970-71 salary settlement with the faculty.

Appointed were Supt. Kenneth Gill, Asst. Supt. John Barger, Personnel Director Donald Brown and Field School Principal Gus Nizzi.

The team will also meet with Dist. 21 principals to exchange data regarding salary levels of principals in surrounding school districts and additional information.

The board appointed a budget committee to work on the 1970-71 budget. Named to the committee were Gill, Barger and Walter Fuller, business manager.

5 Contests Shaping Up In Election

Five contests, four of them in the Democratic party, were shaping up Monday for the March 17 election of township committeemen.

On the last day of filing petitions of nomination, the Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine and Hanover Township incumbent Democratic committeemen all had an opponent.

The only fight in Republican ranks is three contenders for the committeeman post in Hanover township that Eugene Devitt is resigning.

Herman Koenenman of Arlington Heights has filed petitions opposing Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James L. McCabe. Charles J. DePaul of Hoffman Estates is opposing Schaumburg Township Democratic Committeeman John F. Morrissey.

IN PALATINE Township, Richard A. Mugallan of Palatine is going against incumbent Democratic Committeeman Peter J. Gerling Sr. and in Hanover Township, Thomas J. McCarter is opposing Democratic Committeeman James Cullen.

Elk Grove Township Democratic Committeeman Chester Chesney and Barrington Township Democratic Committeeman William J. Payes were both unopposed Monday.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Vandals Break Church Window

Vandals broke a large frosted plate-glass window at the First Baptist Church of Wheeling at Elmhurst Road and Edward St. last weekend.

The Rev. Stanley Dill reported the broken window to police at 9 a.m. Sunday. The window was broken sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday police reported.

Police said parts of a broken beer bottle were found inside the church and reported that the bottle had apparently been thrown through the window.

Group Sets Low-Cost Homes Talk

Low and moderate-income housing will be discussed tonight by a steering committee formed from the Dec. 5 housing conference sponsored by the Ad-Hoc Northwest Suburban Committee for Better Housing.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

The formation of a permanent committee to work for low and moderate-income housing in the area will be discussed, according to Rudy Hazucha, spokesman for the committee.

Hazucha said "40 or 45" persons indicated at the Dec. 5 conference that they were interested in being on the steering committee.

"WE MUST have a broad representation of people from every village and group in the area," Hazucha said. He said that the response from local industries was "not real good."

"About 15 or 18 firms responded in one way or another," he stated.

He added that if a permanent committee is formed, it will discuss its goals and methods of implementing them at a meeting next month.

Driver Hurt, Auto Demolished

Kathleen E. Czerniak, 27, of 120 N. Wolf Rd., Wheeling, was treated and released for minor injuries at Northwest Community Hospital following an accident at 5:22 a.m. Sunday in Wheeling in which the car she was driving was demolished.

The accident occurred on the east side of Milwaukee Avenue one-half block south of Dundee Road.

Police said the car, southbound on Milwaukee Avenue, had just crossed Dundee Road when it skidded and hit a traffic control sign and a tree.

A police sergeant in pursuit of the car estimated the car's speed at 95 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Police charged the driver with speeding and with improper lane usage. She will appear Jan. 20 in Arlington Heights District Court in connection with the charges.

Set Year-End Meet

The Northwest Municipal Conference will use its December meeting to plan for its annual "new-year" dinner in January and wrap up some loose ends from 1969.

Conference Pres. Robert Atcher predicted transportation will again take up a majority of business Wednesday. Member mayors and managers meet at 8 p.m. in the new Wheeling Village Hall, 255 W. Dundee Rd.

"Our principal push will be to get lined up for the January dinner and officers installation," Atcher said. "Then we'll see what we can do about forward motion in some areas we have faltered in, like our transportation study."

Noting that the conference has failed to find a man who could head a transportation study free to the conference, he said he may repeat his earlier suggestion to finance the study through local motor fuel taxes.

ATCHER SAID he may also appoint a committee to follow up an earlier program on refuse disposal. The committee should reach some conclusion on how Rolling Meadows' refuse disposal can best serve people of the entire northwest, he said.

Trial-Death Link Hinted

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy?" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy?" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated. "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

50,000 Coming Home

WASHINGTON — President Nixon yesterday announced an additional 50,000-man reduction of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by April 15.

The new cut brings the over-all reduction to 115,500 men between last Jan. 20 and next April 15.

Benefits Hike OK'd

WASHINGTON — The House unanimously approved a 15-per cent boost in monthly Social Security benefits yesterday for all 25 million recipients starting New Year's Day.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the increase will become part of the tax-reform bill being negotiated by House-Senate conferees resolving differences in earlier House and Senate bills.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON — The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., attacked the restriction to a bill appropriating $69.3 million for the Defense Department after a 72-17 vote.

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR for children to show the way with their spirit and enthusiasm for the holiday season. It naturally bubbles over when youngsters gather near a Christmas tree roady with their ornaments and paper chains carefully created by young hands as Rolling Meadows children recently demonstrated when they decorated a tree in the library.

Meet Set To Fill Seat

The Palatine-Schaumburg High School Dist. 21 board will call a special meeting Jan. 5 to appoint a new board member to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Eugene Baker of Lexington Fields, Schaumburg.

Candidates will be interviewed and a successor named the same night to fulfill the Illinois School Code requirement for appointment within 30 days of a resignation.

"We have applications available here at the administration office for interested persons," G. A. McElroy, superintendent, said. "People thinking of interviewing should contact us as soon as possible."

BAKER'S RESIGNATION was presented to the board at its meeting Dec. 11. According to Allyn Franke, Dist. 21 attorney, the 30-day limitation for appointment begins with the date on the letter.

Baker's letter is dated Dec. 8, making it necessary for the board to make an appointment before Jan. 6 to avoid a special election.

Any registered voter in Dist. 21, which covers most of Palatine and Schaumburg Townships, is eligible to serve on the board.

The appointee will serve until the end of Baker's term in April, 1970.

Dist. 21 board members delayed accepting Baker's resignation in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid making an appointment during the holidays. "We would like to have as many persons as possible apply for this position," Lyle Johnson, board president, said. "It is unfortunate the vacancy came at a time when people are so busy."

IN APRIL, three board seats will be up for election. Baker's term is over in the 1970 election, as is Johnson's. The third election will be for a permanent successor for George Ledford who resigned in June. His term ends in April, 1971.

Appointments for vacancies on the board are effective until the next board election when a permanent replacement is elected to finish an unexpired term.

Throughout the week, reading classes at Joel Wood School are performing short plays for other students. A school-wide sing will be held Thursday at 9 a.m.

Four groups will perform in the program at Winston Park School Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Parents are invited to hear the concert band, Winston Park Originals, seventh and eighth-grade chorus, and drama group perform.

The band at Gray M. Sanborn School will put on a holiday program for parents and students Wednesday at 8 p.m. A toy shop narration by the third grade also is in the program.

THE FIRST, second, and third primary

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the grades at Jonas E. Salk School will have a holiday program Wednesday at 2 p.m. First-year primary will present a program on Christmas toys; second-year primary, Seven Joys of Christmas; and third year primary, songs of Christmas trees in different languages. The play, "The Sailor's Christmas," will be performed by fourth, fifth and sixth graders Friday at 2 p.m. Parents are invited to the program.

Three schools will have holiday programs Friday for parents and students. The program at Jane Addams School will begin at 1:15 p.m. Virginia Lake School will have a sing-in at 1:30 p.m. and Hunting Ridge School will have a sing for kindergarten through third grade at 10:30 a.m.

Hunting Ridge parents and students also participated in a holiday evening program yesterday.

STUDENTS AT Plum Grove School will have an in-school sing Friday afternoon. The junior high glee club and band at Stuart R. Paddock School will have a program for elementary students Friday at 2 p.m. and for junior high students at 3 p.m. The two groups performed for parents in a program Dec. 11.

Winston Churchill School also held a holiday sing program Dec. 11. Parents were invited to hear fourth- and fifth-graders sing.

The junior high glee club and band at Stuart R. Paddock School will have a program for elementary students Friday at 2 p.m. and for junior high students at 3 p.m. The two groups performed for parents in a program Dec. 11.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

Apartments, Y Plan Told

Plans for more than 1,000 apartments and a YMCA facility to accommodate a projected membership of 10,000 persons were presented to the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals yesterday.

Rezoning of the 100-acre tract in Palatine Township near the intersection of Baldwin and Colfax streets between Northwest Highway and Dundee Road is needed before construction can begin.

Proposing the project is L. F. Draper and Associates Inc., part-owner of the land and developer of the area to be called Countryside.

A 10-ACRE commercial area is planned to accompany more than 85 acres of apartment buildings. A total of 1,040 apartment units are proposed in 26 two-story buildings.

The entire project is estimated to cost about $19 million, according to Draper, who said it would take about four years to complete.

He said construction of the first phase of the development could begin by early spring of next year, if rezoning is granted.

Countryside YMCA which serves the Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Barrington area has an option to buy a 10-acre site included in the development. The property fronts on Northwest Highway and includes the old site of Kelly's Korner.

JOHN DENTON, chairman of the capital planning committee of the YMCA testified before the zoning board yesterday.

He said the Y will build a facility on the site "subject to the generosity of the people in the community."

"As you know, YMCA buildings are built with contributions by their members," he said.

Present plans call for a facility to be completed sometime in 1972 that would serve 10,000 people, according to Denton. "We anticipate there will be a need to add on to the building by 1976," he said.

INCLUDED IN the proposed Y facility will be a swimming pool, instructional pool, gymnasium with running track, youth and game room, multipurpose room for 200 people, a men's health club to accommodate 500 and woman's health club to accommodate 300, handball courts, teen center and a preschool program center, according to Denton.

He said architecture of the building will be compatible with the entire Countryside development.

The two-story apartment buildings will be of contemporary design and contain only one- and two-bedroom apartments.

Rents will range from $180 for a one-bedroom to $290 for a two-bedroom apartment, according to Draper.

ment, according to Draper. A LAND PLANNER, Edward Smith, testified the development will yield an estimated tax revenue of $700,000 with an assessed valuation of $11 million.

Draper estimated about 150 school-age children will live in the Countryside apartments. He said he based his opinion on the number of children living in his other multifamily developments in the Palatine area including Georgetown and the Wood Street apartments.

A copy of a preannexation agreement with Palatine was entered as evidence at yesterday's hearing. The village has agreed to extend water and sewer facilities to the land at the developer's expense and Draper has agreed to annex the property to Palatine as soon as the development becomes contiguous to village boundaries.

5 Contests Shaping Up In Election

Five contests, four of them in the Democratic party, were shaping up Monday for the March 17 election of township committeemen.

On the last day of filing petitions of nomination, the Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine and Hanover Township incumbent Democratic committeemen all had an opponent.

The only fight in Republican ranks is three contenders for the committeeman post in Hanover township that Eugene Devitt is resigning.

Herman Koeneman of Arlington Heights has filed petitions opposing Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James L. McCabe. Charles J. DePaul of Hoffman Estates is opposing Schaumburg Township Democratic Committeeman John F. Morrissey.

IN PALATINE Township, Richard A. Mogalian of Palatine is going against incumbent Democratic Committeeman Peter J. Gerling Sr. and in Hanover Township, Thomas J. McCarter is opposing Democratic Committeeman James Cullen.

Elk Grove Township Democratic Committeeman Chester Chesney and Barrington Township Democratic Committeeman William J. Payes were both unopposed Monday.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Library Sets 28 Day Loan

A 28-day loan-out period will soon be in effect at the Palatine Public Library.

All library materials will be loaned out for the extended time including books, magazines, films, paintings and pamphlet material.

Material will be checked out from the upstairs desk, combining the services of the children's and adults' check out.

The library also has other new services for patrons. One is an 8 mm film library. The films are for amusement, said library director Mrs. Ida Bullen. They include Laurel and Hardy and Keystone Cops films. She said some are appropriate for children's birthday parties.

ANOTHER SERVICE for residents will be magazine print-outs available on request. This is handled through the North Suburban Library System (NSLS). After a request is made, it takes at least 24 hours to get the print. Mrs. Bullen said.

Residents will be able to request anything the NSLS has access to. This includes the Chicago Public Library and the Northwestern University library.

Due to space limitations, the library can only keep a three year backlog of magazines now in circulation.

Also from the NSLS, the library will be able to fill requests from residents on books or materials not at the Palatine library.

The library will send a request to the NSLS and the book will be sent to the Palatine library.

Paperback Swapping Planned by Library

A swap collection will begin at the Palatine Public Library after Jan. 1.

The library has a few paperback books now, but needs more, said Mrs. Donna Grove, librarian.

Swappers will be able to bring a paperback to the library and exchange it for one in the collection.

CHRISTMAS TREES are being sold by the Rolling Meadows Jaycees every day until Christmas in the parking lot of the National Food Store, Paul Lublink, left, and his Jaycee friends, will be selling trees to people like Roger Patterson from 6 to 10 p.m.

Monday through Friday, 10 to 10 Saturday, and 10 to 6 Sunday until Christmas Eve. One of two fund raising projects held each year, proceeds from the sale will be used for spring projects, including the Rolling Meadows 15th anniversary celebration in February, the national Jaycees 50th anniversary, an Easter egg hunt, mother of the year contest, and a junior sports jamboree.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT of the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorses any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soo Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervisor of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokeswoman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

A FOUR-WAY TIE was the result of the contest to name the PTA paper at Hunting Ridge School. Four boys turned in the suggestion "Ridge Runner" the same day. Brett Dennis, seated left, is a kindergartener; Tom Shriver, fifth grade; Jim Cullen, third; and Ronald Bellito, sixth.

Employees To Give Agencies Gifts

Gifts, selected to fit the needs of various agencies in the Northwest suburbs, are being given by the Rolling Meadows Western Electric employees.

A volunteer committee of 13 employees questioned agencies concerning the items needed, and made their purchases.

Over 800 gifts have been purchased. Delivery of gifts will begin on Dec. 17 and end the 19th.

Western employees and members of the Crew Club, a social and hobby club for employees, will deliver the gifts.

SOME OF THE ITEMS include transistor radios, exercise cycles, bicycles, toy trucks, footballs, basketballs, therapeutic equipment, educational aids and clothing.

A spokesman for the company said some of the things asked for were ceramic kits, large coffee pots, dolls, games, a movie screen and high intensity lamps. These items were purchased for those agencies requesting them.

Agencies benefiting from the Western Electric gifts include the Bensenville Home, Clearbrook Center, Countryside Center for Retarded, Hilltop Foundation, Lake Villa Nursing Home, Little Angels Nursing Home, Maryville School, Northwest Suburban Aid for Retarded and St. Matthew's Home for the Aged.

Others are Beverly Lake School, Cook County Herrick House, DuPage County Easter Seal Center, Klingberg Residential School, Larkin Home for Children, Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Mount St. Joseph School for Retarded, Plum Grove Nursing Home and West Suburban School for Retarded.

Accompanying gift deliveries will be three employees providing entertainment. Harold Hucik will be Santa Claus, Frank Zawila will perform as Fo Jo Zo the accordion-playing clown and Fred Dreibohl will perform as the comedy-magician Freddy Fredericks.

MSD Tax Break

At a time when most taxes and bills are going up, next year the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) will have taxes going down about 5.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The tax break was made possible by action of the 76th General Assembly which reorganized the MSD's method of financing its operations.

Effects of the legislative bills are being determined now as the board of trustees prepares its 1970 budget for adoption Dec. 23.

A bill permitting the MSD to issue $380 million in nonreferendum bonds primarily accounts for the tax break. The MSD had dropped its 14-cent tax rate for construction funds in favor of financing improvements solely with bonds.

at a net interest cost of 6.81779 per cent per annum.

NO MORE THAN $60 million in bonds can be issued in any one year but the bond money will double the MSD's income for projects. Trustees have indicated in recent meetings that the board will be establishing priorities for spending its construction money.

The $380 million bond issue is the amount figured to represent the local share of a total $2 billion 10-year clean-up and flood control program. State and federal funds are to make up the difference.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed the non-referendum bond bill into law Sept. 22. Taxpayers had until Dec. 8 to petition for a public referendum on the bond issue but no petitions were filed, Collins said.

A TAX RATE of 6.5 cents to pay the interest and principal on bonds is to be substituted next year for the construction fund. Over the 10-year bonding period, this rate to retire bonds is not expected to go over 13 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The total MSD tax rate that will be levied next year is about 23.5 cents per $100, according to MSD treasurer William F. Collins. Last year's tax rate was 33.69 cents, he pointed out.

The tax rate for the MSD's general corporate fund will be 18 cents per $100 assessed valuation and for the annual and benefit fund, about four cents.

The General Assembly also passed a bill to eliminate the old pegged levy system of financing MSD operations and set for it a maximum general corporate tax rate. Most governmental units operate with maximum tax rates.

BY LAW, THE MSD's maximum tax rate for general corporate purposes is 18 cents in 1970, 19 cents in 1971, 21 cents in 1972, 22 cents in 1973 and 23.6 cents in 1974.

The "pegged levy" system of financing the MSD had limited the government to collecting not more than $35.5 million a year for its corporate fund and $30 million for its construction fund.

MSD officials had requested legislative authority for a maximum tax rate as the rate would give the district the advantage of increasing its yearly revenues through the usual means of a rising assessed valuation.

MSD trustees last Thursday sold their first $20 million in construction bonds to the associates: Halsey Stuart and Co., Inc.; Glore Forgan, William R. Staats, Inc.; and Drexel Harriman Ripley Inc. and Associates.

The associates had the lower of two bids

Dance At School — Teen Stabbed

A fight at a dance at Sacred Heart of Mary high school in Rolling Meadows Saturday night resulted in a stabbing of one man and injuries to two others.

Lt. Ralph Evans of the Rolling Meadows Police, said the dance was held by Santa Teresita Catholic Church, Palatine.

Evans said Elroy Salazar, 18, 2944 Schoenbeck Road, Arlington Heights, received one stab wound in the abdominal area.

The stabbing occurred at 10:35 p.m. Salazar was taken to Northwest Community Hospital and released Sunday morning.

Police held Pedro Navarro, 22, 3633 N. Pine Grove, Chicago overnight on an open charge. He was picked up by police Saturday night while walking on Central Road. Evans said he had a two inch cut behind his ear that required 15 stitches.

POLICE SAID Navarro could give no explanation for his injuries.

According to police, no one at the dance can identify the person who stabbed Salazar. Another man, Reynaldo Saucedo, 23, 1001 S. State Road, Arlington Heights, was also taken to Northwest Community Hospital and treated for injuries.

Evans said police are seeking a witness to the stabbing.

"If someone would make an identification, then we could sign a complaint," he said.

"People said they saw an unknown subject in a red suit pull a knife, but no one saw the stabbing," Evans said.

Ask Panther Death Probe

The Prospect Human Relations Commission, an organization composed of residents of Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights, has appealed to government officials and the Illinois Human Relations Commission for their help in clarifying the circumstances surrounding the death of Black Panther leader Fred Hampton.

In a decision reached by the executive board of the local commission, letters of inquiry have been sent to U.S. Senators Charles Percy and Ralph T. Smith, U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, R-13th, State Representatives Eugene Schickman, R-Arlington Heights, Eugene Chapman, D-Arlington Heights, and David Regner, R-Mount Prospect, and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon.

"The circumstances of the death of Fred Hampton leaves us with much concern," the letter states, and asks each lawmaker for recommendations on how to resolve the questions about Hampton's death.

The commission's executive board asked each public official for advice on how to relieve tensions concerning the matter.

THE LETTER TO THE legislators is signed by Henry Lacine, of the executive board, and Mary Jo Wolfe, secretary.

Lacine, of 207 N. Russell, Mount Prospect, said the decision to make a statement concerning the death of Panther leader Hampton came last week, when seven members of the nine-member executive board voted to take action on the matter.

"I know the death of Fred Hampton will seem far away to a lot of people out here in the suburbs," Lacine said, "but we see this trend beginning to develop everywhere, and we want to speak about it."

Lacine said members of the commission also have voiced concern over the recent fire in Elk Grove Township in which two children died.

"It's all interrelated," Lacine said. "This is the first time we've gotten involved in a city problem by speaking on the death of Fred Hampton, but we see this as a wider problem which affects everyone — in the city and in the suburbs."

50,000 Coming Home

WASHINGTON — President Nixon yesterday announced an additional 50,000-man reduction of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by April 15.

The new cut brings the over-all reduction to 115,500 men between last Jan. 20 and next April 15.

Benefits Hike OK'd

WASHINGTON — The House unanimously approved a 15-per cent boost in monthly Social Security benefits yesterday for all 25 million recipients starting New Year's Day.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the increase will become part of the tax-reform bill being negotiated by House-Senate conferees resolving differences in earlier House and Senate bills.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON—The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., attacked the restriction to a bill appropriating $89.3 million for the Defense Department after a 72-17 vote.

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR for children to show the way with their spirit and enthusiasm for the holiday season. It naturally bubbles over when youngsters gather near a Christmas tree ready with their ornaments and paper chains carefully created by young hands as Rolling Meadows children recently demonstrated when they decorated a tree in the library.

Meet Set To Fill Seat

The Palatine-Schaumburg High School Dist. 21 board will call a special meeting Jan. 5 to appoint a new board member to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Eugene Baker of Lexington Fields, Schaumburg.

Candidates will be interviewed and a successor named the same night to fulfill the Illinois School Code requirement for appointment within 30 days of a resignation.

"We have applications available here at the administration office for interested persons," G. A. McElroy, superintendent, said. "People thinking of interviewing should contact us as soon as possible."

BAKER'S RESIGNATION was presented to the board at its meeting Dec. 11. According to Allyn Franke, Dist. 211 attorney, the 30-day limitation for appointment begins with the date on the letter.

Baker's letter is dated Dec. 8, making it necessary for the board to make an appointment before Jan. 6 to avoid a special election.

Any registered voter in Dist. 211, which covers most of Palatine and Schaumburg Townships, is eligible to serve on the board.

The appointee will serve until the end of Baker's term in April, 1970.

Dist. 211 board members delayed accepting Baker's resignation in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid making an appointment during the holidays. "We would like to have as many persons as possible apply for this position," Lyle Johnson, board president, said. "It is unfortunate the vacancy came at a time when people are so busy."

IN APRIL, three board seats will be up for election Baker's term is over in the 1970 election, as is Johnson's. The third election will be for a permanent successor for George Ledford who resigned in June. His term ends in April, 1971.

Appointments for vacancies on the board are effective until the next board election when a permanent replacement is elected to finish an unexpired term.

THE FIRST, second, and third primary

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17 primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

Housing Law Is Disputed

Discussion of a proposed open housing ordinance in Rolling Meadows continued last night at a meeting of the Ordinance and Judiciary Committee of Rolling Meadows City Council.

Speaking for Rolling Meadows Human Relations Council, David Sundling, president, and Marc Wallace, vice president told the committee they could not support the existing proposed ordinance (The Herald went to press before the committee decided whether or not to put the open ordinance on the Dec. 23 agenda).

Wallace cited the exclusion of the individual in the ordinance drawn up by City Atty Donald Rose as the council's primary objection to the ordinance.

FEDERAL OPEN housing laws include real estate brokers and individuals in discrimination legislation. Wallace also said the proposed ordinance is not parallel to the present federal legislation.

"I can't say exactly what the differences are because I'm not an attorney. Mr. Rose agreed that if we're to include the individual in the ordinance it should be clarified," Wallace asserted.

Ald. Frederick Jacobson took issue with Wallace's interpretation whether individuals were included in the proposed ordinance.

"The way I read it 'person' means anybody, any John Doe who operates within the city," Jacobson said.

SUNDLING SAID that if anyone went to court 'person' would be interpreted in the context of the ordinance.

"This is an ordinance for real estate brokers; it should say something in the title about sale of real estate or individuals," Sundling said.

"If we included definitions of the word 'person' in the ordinance would it be acceptable to your committee?" James Huddleston ordinance judiciary and committee chairman, asked Sundling.

Sundling said, "yes."

JACOBSON SAID he had two points he wanted clarified in the ordinance. "I want to know if we can license all real estate brokers who operate in the city, even if they don't have an office here. And 'The other area is that the really review board should be a special committee of the city council."

The alderman added that having council members on the committee would give it more power to rule on problems in the city.

"With this ordinance we are trying to forestall and foresee certain behavior of real estate brokers in discriminatory practices," Huddleston said. "We just want to be prepared," he concluded.

5 Contests Shaping Up In Election

Five contests, four of them in the Democratic party, were shaping up Monday for the March 17 election of township committeemen.

On the last day of filing petitions of nomination, the Wheeling, Schaumburg, Palatine and Hanover Township incumbent Democratic committeemen all had an opponent.

The only fight in Republican ranks is three contenders for the committeeman post in Hanover Township that Eugene Devitt is resigning.

Herman Koennan of Arlington Heights has filed petitions opposing Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman James L. McCabe. Charles J. DePaul of Hoffman Estates is opposing Schaumburg Township Democratic Committeeman John F. Morrissey.

IN PALATINE Township, Richard A. Mughan of Palatine is going against incumbent Democratic Committeeman Peter J. Gerling Sr. and in Hanover Township, Thomas J. McCarter is opposing Democratic Committeeman James Cullen.

Elk Grove Township Democratic Committeeman Chester Chesney and Barrington Township Democratic Committeeman William J. Payes were both unopposed Monday.

Republicans seeking the Hanover Township committeeman post are Albert H. Sinagra of Hanover Park and Jerome F. Mann and Frank P. Lentz, both of Elgin.

Library Sets 28 Day Loan

A 28-day loan-out period will soon be in effect at the Palatine Public Library.

All library materials will be loaned out for the extended time including books, magazines, films, paintings and pamphlet material.

Material will be checked out from the upstairs desk, combining the services of the children's and adults' check out.

The library also has other new services for patrons. One is an 8 mm film library. The films are for amusement, said library director Mrs. Ida Bullen. They include Laurel and Hardy and Keystone Cops films. She said some are appropriate for children's birthday parties.

ANOTHER SERVICE for residents will be magazine print-outs available on request. This is handled through the North Suburban Library System (NSLS). After a request is made, it takes at least 24 hours to get the print. Mrs. Bullen said.

Residents will be able to request anything the NSLS has access to. This includes the Chicago Public Library and the Northwestern University library.

Due to space limitations, the library can only keep a three year backlog of magazines now in circulation.

Also from the NSLS, the library will be able to fill requests from residents on books or materials not at the Palatine library.

The library will send a request to the NSLS and the book will be sent to the Palatine library.

Paperback Swapping Planned by Library

A swap collection will begin at the Palatine Public Library after Jan. 1.

The library has a few paperback books now, but needs more, said Mrs. Donna Grove, librarian.

Swappers will be able to bring a paperback to the library and exchange it for one in the collection.

CHRISTMAS TREES are being sold by the Rolling Meadows Jaycees every day until Christmas in the parking lot of the National Food Store. Paul Lublink, left, and his Jaycee friends, will be selling trees to people like Roger Patterson from 6 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 to 10 Saturday, and 10 to 6 Sunday until Christmas Eve. One of two fund raising projects held each year, proceeds from the sale will be used for spring projects, including the Rolling Meadows 15th anniversary celebration in February, the national Jaycees 50th anniversary, an Easter egg hunt, mother of the year contest, and a junior sports jamboree.

Shooting Linked with Trial?

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy?" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT OF the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorses any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soe Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervisor of Palatine Road west of Route 53, mittie to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated, "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

Employees To Give Agencies Gifts

Gifts, selected to fit the needs of various agencies in the Northwest suburbs, are being given by the Rolling Meadows Western Electric employees.

A volunteer committee of 13 employees questioned agencies concerning the items needed, and made their purchases.

Over 800 gifts have been purchased. Delivery of gifts will begin on Dec. 17 and end the 19th.

Western employees and members of the Crews Club, a social and hobby club for employees, will deliver the gifts.

SOME OF THE ITEMS include transistor radios, exercise cycles, bicycles, toy trucks, footballs, basketballs, therapeutic equipment, educational aids and clothing.

A spokesman for the company said some of the things asked for were ceramic kites, large coffee pots, dolls, games, a movie screen and high intensity lamps. These items were purchased for those agencies requesting them.

Agencies benefiting from the Western Electric gifts include the Bensenville Home, Clearbrook Center, Countryside Center for Retarded, Hilltop Foundation, Lake Villa Nursing Home, Little Angels Nursing Home, Maryville School, Northwest Suburban Aid for Retarded and St. Mathew's Home for the Aged.

Others are Beverly Lake School, Cook County Herrick House, DuPage County Easter Seal Center, Klingberg Residential School, Larkin Home for Children, Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Mount St. Joseph School for Retarded, Plum Grove Nursing Home and West Suburban School for Retarded.

MSD Tax Break

At a time when most taxes and bills are going up, next year the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) will have taxes going down about 5.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The tax break was made possible by action of the 76th General Assembly which reorganized the MSD's method of financing its operations.

Effects of the legislative bills are being determined now as the board of trustees prepares its 1970 budget for adoption Dec. 23.

A bill permitting the MSD to issue $300 million in nonreferendum bonds primarily accounts for the tax break. The MSD had dropped its 14-cent tax rate for construction funds in favor of financing improvements solely with bonds.

A TAX RATE of 6.5 cents to pay the interest and principal on bonds is to be substituted next year for the construction fund. Over the 10-year bonding period, this rate to retire bonds is not expected to go over 13 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The total MSD tax rate that will be levied next year is about 28.5 cents per $100, according to MSD treasurer William F. Collins. Last year's tax rate was 33.69 cents, he pointed out.

The tax rate for the MSD's general corporate fund will be 18 cents per $100 assessed valuation and for the annuity and benefit fund, about four cents.

The General Assembly also passed a bill to eliminate the old pegged levy system of financing MSD operations and set for it a maximum general corporate tax rate. Most governmental units operate with maximum tax rates.

BY LAW, THE MSD'S maximum tax rate for general corporate purposes is 18 cents in 1970, 19 cents in 1971, 21 cents in 1972, 22 cents in 1973 and 23 cents in 1974.

The "pegged levy" system of financing the MSD had limited the government to collecting not more than $35.5 million a year for its corporate fund and $30 million for its construction fund.

MSD officials had requested legislative authority for a maximum tax rate as the state would give the district the advantage of increasing its yearly revenues through the usual means of a rising assessed valuation.

MSD trustees last Thursday sold their first $20 million in construction bonds to the associates: Halsey Stuart and Co., Inc.; Glorv Forgan, William R. Staats, Inc.; and Drexel Harriman Ripley Inc. and Associates.

The associates had the lower of two bids

at a net interest cost of 6.81779 per cent per annum.

NO MORE THAN $60 million in bonds can be issued in any one year but the bond money will double the MSD's income for projects. Trustees have indicated in recent meetings that the board will be establishing priorities for spending its construction money.

The $300 million bond issue is the amount figured to represent the local share of a total $2 billion 10-year clean-up and flood control program. State and federal funds are to make up the difference.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed the non-referendum bond bill into law Sept. 22. Taxpayers had until Dec. 8 to petition for a public referendum on the bond issue but no petitions were filed, Collins said.

Dance At School — Teen Stabbed

A fight at a dance at Sacred Heart of Mary high school in Rolling Meadows Saturday night resulted in a stabbing of one man and injuries to two others.

Lt. Ralph Evans of the Rolling Meadows police, said the dance was held by Santa Teresa Catholic Church, Palatine.

Evans said Elroy Salazar, 18, 2944 Schoenbeck Road, Arlington Heights, received one stab wound in the abdominal area.

The stabbing occurred at 10:35 p.m. Salazar was taken to Northwest Community Hospital and released Sunday morning.

Police held Pedro Navarro, 22, 3633 N. Pine Grove, Chicago overnight on an open charge. He was picked up by police Saturday night while walking on Central Road Evans said he had a two inch cut behind his ear that required 15 stitches.

POLICE SAID Navarro could give no explanation for his injuries.

According to police, no one at the dance can identify the person who stabbed Salazar. Another man, Reynaldo Saucedo, 23, 1001 S. State Road, Arlington Heights, was also taken to Northwest Community Hospital and treated for injuries.

Evans said police are seeking a witness to the stabbing.

"If someone would make an identification, then we could sign a complaint," he said.

"People said they saw an unknown subject in a red suit pull a knife, but no one saw the stabbing," Evans said.

Ask Panther Death Probe

The Prospect Human Relations Commission, an organization composed of residents of Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights, has appealed to government officials and the Illinois Human Relations Commission for their help in clarifying the circumstances surrounding the death of Black Panther leader Fred Hampton.

In a decision reached by the executive board of the local commission, letters of inquiry have been sent to U.S. Senators Charles Percy and Ralph T. Smith, U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, R-13th, State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, and David Regner, R-Mount Prospect, and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon.

"The circumstances of the death of Fred Hampton leaves us with much concern," the letter states, and asks each lawmaker for recommendations on how to resolve the questions about Hampton's death.

The commission's executive board asked each public official for advice on how to relieve tensions concerning the matter.

THE LETTER TO THE legislators is signed by Henry Lacine, of the executive board, and Mary Jo Wolfe, secretary.

Lacine, of 207 N. Russell, Mount Prospect, said the decision to make a statement concerning the death of Panther leader Hampton came last week, when seven members of the nine-member executive board voted to take action on the matter.

"I know the death of Fred Hampton will seem far away to a lot of people out here in the suburbs," Lacine said, "but we see this trend beginning to develop everywhere, and we want to speak about it."

Lacine said members of the commission also have voiced concern over the recent fire in Elk Grove Township in which two children died.

"It's all interrelated," Lacine said. "This is the first time we've gotten involved in a city problem by speaking on the death of Fred Hampton, but we see this as a wider problem which affects everyone — in the city and in the suburbs."

50,000 Coming Home

WASHINGTON — President Nixon yesterday announced an additional 50,000-man reduction of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by April 15.

The new cut brings the over-all reduction to 115,500 men between last Jan. 20 and next April 15.

Benefits Hike OK'd

WASHINGTON — The House unanimously approved a 15-per cent boost in monthly Social Security benefits yesterday for all 26 million recipients starting New Year's Day.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the increase will become part of the tax-reform bill being negotiated by House-Senate conferees resolving differences in earlier House and Senate bills.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON — The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., attacked the restriction to a bill appropriating $69.3 million for the Defense Department after a 72-17 vote.

Two Dist. 57 Bond Issues Sold

The Dist. 57 school board last night sold bond issues approved by Mount Prospect voters last year.

The first bond issue, for the $550,000 addition to Lincoln School, went to the LaSalle National Bank of Chicago. The low bid was $411,000 at interest cost with an average interest rate of 7 per cent.

The March bond issue of $274,500 for construction at Gregory and Sunset schools went to the Mount Prospect State Bank at a 6 per cent interest rate.

It was determined at the last board meeting that present interest rates were too high, but that it was impossible to determine when a decrease would take place.

A TENTATIVE construction payment schedule, a cash flow chart, and a bond retirement schedule were distributed at that meeting.

The board decided to sell the bonds last night because if they were not sold by early 1970, the first year's levy for interest would have to cover interest for two years — resulting in a high bond rate levy.

J. C. Busenhardt, assistant superintendent and business manager, said the board could have delayed selling the bonds, but that cash from the smaller sale was needed immediately.

Superintendent Eric Sahlberg said that footings for the Lincoln School addition had been poured and about one half of the foundation completed.

He reported that the roof panels were being placed at the Gregory School addition, that the roof paneling had been completed at the Sunset Park School addition and that the contractor will be placing portable heaters in the Sunset Park addition soon.

Board members who looked into the bond market on their own admit that the district might find improved conditions if they could wait six months or more, but not sooner. On the other hand, no expert could guarantee improved conditions at any time.

Estimates on the tax rate for the bond and interest fund were presented as .366 for 1968-69; .39 for 1969-70 with a possible jump as high as .42 for 1970-71 if interest on both issues is paid for two years in the first year. In 1971-72, the levy could then drop back to .37 with .36 the year following.

This rate includes the present outstanding bonds as well as the two new issues and is based on an estimated total assessed value increase of $2 million each year.

Taxes are collected one year in advance on bond issues so funds should be available for payment.

Fill School Post

Tom Warden, Dist. 59 director of training and past principal of Forest View Elementary School, was appointed administrative assistant by the board Monday night.

This position, which pays $17,000 a year, has been vacant since Al Waltman was appointed acting superintendent following Supt. Donald Thomas' resignation in July.

Waltman recommended the appointment saying, "Tom has exhibited the kind of behavior that I think would be an asset to me while continuing as acting superintendent. . . I need his services."

Juvenile Counselor

John Strong Resigns

John Strong, a juvenile counselor for the Village of Mount Prospect, has submitted his resignation to Jack Costello, chairman of the Youth Commission, effective Dec. 17.

"For compelling and personal reasons, I am submitting my resignation as juvenile counselor effective Dec. 17," Strong said in his letter of resignation earlier this month.

Strong, a youth counselor at Arlington High School, has worked as consulting juvenile counselor for Mount Prospect for two years. He worked closely with Dr. Ronald Duckers, consulting psychologist for the village, on juvenile problems.

Democrats Select 10 Area Chairmen

Ten new area chairmen have been named for the Wheeling Township Democratic Organization by Committeeman James L. McCabe.

The new chairman, McCabe said, are needed because of additional precincts created in the township. He said the area chairman system, initiated about a year and a half ago, has proved very successful.

The new area chairmen are Harvey

Seek Migrant Housing Funds

Funds will be sought to purchase 10 mobile homes to house Spanish-Americans presently living in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township.

A joint steering committee of village officials and members of the Neighbors at Work (NAW) organization reached this conclusion Monday morning.

Several sites in Elk Grove Village have been suggested, including the site of the municipal complex at Wellington Avenue and Biesterfeld Road, the industrial park area, and near Ned Brown Forest Preserve at Cosman Road.

THE COMMITTEE, chaired by Joseph Wellman of NAW, will seek funds, about $25,000, for the trailers, from other governmental units, including the township, county and state.

Village Pres. Jack Pahl was assigned the job of obtaining funds and working out legal ramifications.

The committee indicated it would use the aid of Robert Ibarra, coordinator for Spanish American groups in School Dist. 59, to find the people who will be housed in the mobile homes.

Two families which appear to be likely candidates are those of Anselmo DeLaGarza, who says he was bulldozed off the Klehm nursery Dec. 6 and Armando Gomez, the latest family to be taken in from substandard housing. Both families are housed at the Holiday Inn in Elk Grove Village.

THE COMMITTEE agreed the housing of the families in trailers in the village would be a temporary move until more permanent housing can be obtained.

Members of the committee who took part in Monday's meeting were Louis Archbold, Clyde Brooks and Wellman of Neighbors at Work, and Bill Koretke of the village human relations commission and New Communities, Inc., Richard McGrenera, village trustee, and Al Broten, community services board chairman.

Also attending were the Rev. J. Ward Morrison, pastor of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church, Thomas Smith, executive director of community services, and Pahl. Monday's meeting was an outcome of a Sunday meeting attended by some 125 persons at Queen of the Rosary Catholic School.

At the meeting, Brooks proposed formation of the steering committee which will again meet at 7 a.m. today in the village hall prior to making a recommendation to the village board at tonight's meeting.

Brooks, who is manpower director for the North Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), also proposed that the churches of Elk Grove Village agree to contribute a designated amount of money over an eight-month period.

THE MONEY WOULD be used for the needs of low-income people, including the day-to-day expenses of living in this "high-priced area," and for their housing and transportation needs.

He proposed a short-term housing program utilizing trailers for two years, followed by a program in which funds would be obtained from the state for low and moderate income housing in the village.

"No more than 22 per cent of the income of our poor people would go to rent," said Brooks.

As a start, he asked that 30 mobile units be brought into the village under jurisdiction of the village government and administered by a home development or improvement commission.

BROOKS SAID funds for projects such as these are available and that they can be administered under local control.

Charles Zetek, village trustee, said at the meeting that the problem of substandard housing has been one of his concerns for many years and that plans were formed to solve the problem four years ago but that they fell through.

The plan included construction of A-frame homes on the Klehm nursery property south of Northwest Tollway. It did not come about because of inability to obtain financing and acreage, he said.

Zetek said that if it is possible to obtain housing for the Spanish Americans he, as an individual, would work to bring it about.

214 Weighs Protest Policy

Supt. Edward Gilbert of High School Dist. 214 last night presented to the board a policy on organized protest activities that permits outside speakers and in-school assemblies on controversial issues.

The policy represents a step away from the district's policy during the November peace moratorium, when assemblies and outside speakers were not permitted during the school day.

The policy states, in part: "Classroom discussion in regular classes where the issue or issues involved is appropriate to the subject matter of the class shall be at the discretion and judgment of the teacher. . . the teacher may arrange for outside resources to enrich the discussion provided a balanced point of view of the issue is presented. Use of such outside resource persons shall be with the advice and approval of the building principal."

THE POLICY further states: "With the approval of the building principal, special programs or activities in connection with the issues may be arranged during the school day, before the opening of school, or following the regular dismissal time."

"Attendance will be on a voluntary basis; however, no student will be dismissed from a regularly assigned class to attend or participate in such programs or activities.

"Again, with the approval of the building principal, outside resource persons may be involved in these activities provided a balanced viewpoint is expressed through presentation of the various sides of the issues."

Later, the proposed policy, it states that the request for the use of outside speakers must come from students or the staff of the school involved.

"THE PRINCIPAL'S decision (on inviting a speaker) will be based on the potential educational value to one or more groups of students as they may be presented in other programs on that day."

The policy states in conclusion that students may participate in out-of-school activities, providing they have parental permission.

The policy, which Gilbert has struggled with for the last week, follows lengthy and often heated discussions on how the school board should deal with the October and November moratoriums.

Girl, 12, Is Injured When Trapped by Car

A 12-year-old Arlington Heights girl was injured Saturday morning when she was pinned between two cars at the Randhurst Shopping Center.

Margaret O'Grady, 304 E. Grove St., was listed in satisfactory condition at Northwest Community Hospital with a broken right wrist, head and abdominal injuries.

Police said she was walking along a fire

lane in the parking lot pushing a cart when a car driven by Nancy A. Voss, 18, 1136 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, backed up and pinned the young girl against another automobile driven by Paul E. Pavey, 46, 6 E. Lillian Ave., Arlington Heights.

Miss Voss was ticketed for improper backing and Pavey was cited for parking in a fire lane.

He Brightens The Season

by ALAN AKERSON

The Christmas season for Wallace Berth of Buffalo Grove is an all-year thing. That's because he's responsible for General Electric Co.'s Christmas lamp sales in eight Midwestern and Western states. Christmas lamp sales "are definitely a year-round business," Berth said. "I'm talking to my first nationwide customer for the 1970 Christmas season later this week."

Berth began selling Christmas lamps for GE in 1961, when the company decided to get into the Christmas lamp business on a large scale. Before that, GE did little more than supply replacement bulbs. However, the onslaught of imported Christmas lamps forced the firm to decide whether it wanted to remain in the market solidly or leave the Christmas lamp field entirely. GE chose to stay in.

"IN THOSE days I was responsible for Christmas lamp sales in 22 states," Berth recalled.

Today GE's Christmas lamp sales total about $25 million nationwide, Berth said. Each year, about 200 million GE Christmas bulbs are purchased.

"I'm responsible for the sale of about 30 million to 40 million bulbs and about 450,000 Christmas lamp sets," Berth said.

"Often we get charged with 'commercializing' Christmas," Berth said.

"But we feel we're filling a consumer need for good, safe Christmas lamps."

Berth said the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with colored lights began shortly after World War I. "Before bulbs were introduced, people decorated their trees with candles or else they didn't use anything."

"THOSE WERE the days of the traditional Christmas trees when people decorated with things like candy canes and popcorn strings. Only the brave ones put candles on the tree."

The first bulbs used were the full-sized, fluted kind, Berth said. "They were the ones where, if one bulb burned out, the whole set went off." Various other bulbs began appearing on the market shortly before World War II.

Berth said the trend toward miniature lights began about 15 years ago when they began to be imported from Italy.

TODAY, BERTH said, the miniature lamps account for about 35 per cent of GE's Christmas lamp sales nationwide. "The percentage is much higher in the Chicago area though," Berth added.

He said about 70 per cent of his company's sales of Christmas lamp sets in the Chicago area comes from the sale of miniature lamps.

"One reason the miniature lamps are so popular here," said Berth, "is that Chicago's Michigan Avenue has been decorated with them for the last 10 years or so."

In decorating Christmas trees and homes, Berth said, "there is no right or wrong way to decorate. Just use taste, common sense and safety."

Berth said that most Christmas tree fires result from frayed or poor Christmas lamp wiring. "People tend to hold onto their old light sets forever. They're handed down from father to son. I don't know why; new sets aren't that expensive."

THE CHRISTMAS lamp market is a growing one, Berth believes. Among the reasons behind the growth, Berth cited both the increasing number of homeowners decorating their homes and the new kinds of light continually being introduced.

"In 1961, when we entered the market on a large scale, only about 15 per cent of the homes in the country had some sort of exterior lighting decorations. In 1969, that figure stands at 35 per cent."

The biggest single trend in Christmas lamp sales today is undoubtedly the increasing number of miniature lamps being sold. But there are others.

"Now there is a move toward figuring and fancy lightings. This first occurred in the 1930's but died down until recently," he said that sets with lamps of a single color also are becoming more popular.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT OF the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorse any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road: for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soo Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervision of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

Order Home Check

George Dunne visited a substandard farmhouse in Elk Grove Township Sunday and Cook County authorities quickly ordered a spot survey for similar housing in unincorporated areas.

Dunne, president of the Cook County Board, said the house visited at 1831 Higgins Road was in "deplorable condition."

"It's a tragic thing when people have to live in such conditions," he said.

MRS. JULIE SASS of the Neighbors at Work organization in Elk Grove Village, took Dunne to the home of Armando Gomez, his wife, and 2-month-old child.

Neighbors at work became active after the tragic death of three children Nov. 29 in Elk Grove Township.

Sanitary facilities in the building were not functioning, and heat was obtained from a leaking fuel oil space heater, Mrs. Sass said.

The family was moved to the Holiday Inn Saturday night, and on Sunday a coffee hour was held at the home to show members of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church the conditions under which the family was living.

DUNNE SAID THAT when he learns the name of the owner, he will notify him that he must conform to the building code. He also acknowledged that a problem of where to house migrants exists.

In ordering a spot check of substandard dwellings in the county, Raymond Welsh, building commissioner, said:

"If any are found, a task force consisting of electricians, plumbers, and building inspectors will inspect areas for violations."

"Owners will be contacted and ordered to comply with the Cook County building ordinances," he added.

"If owners will not cooperate with my directive, the state's attorney's office will be contacted for possible court action," Welsh said.

HE SAID IF cases reach the courtroom stage, "I will recommend that any substandard structures be demolished at the owner's expense."

Welsh attended a meeting of the Neighbors at Work organization Sunday in Elk Grove Village, after which he told a reporter of his plans.

Welsh asked residents for information in finding substandard dwellings because of his department's limited manpower.

He said he has eight building inspectors responsible for 280 square miles of unincorporated Cook County.

Welsh said residents do not have to give their name, but only the information.

Welsh can be reached by telephone at 321-7922 or by writing his office, Room 309, Civic Center, Chicago.

Shooting Linked with Trial?

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy?" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy 7" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

Demo Primary Fight Seen

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

Is 10-Story Building Legal?

The Mount Prospect board of trustees tonight will hash over a legal opinion submitted by Village Atty. John Zimmermann concerning the legality of the variations granted to Randhurst Corp. permitting it to build a 10-story office building.

The legal opinion will weigh heavily on whether the village board grants approval of the new building at the south parking lots at Randhurst.

Both the board of appeals and the judiciary committee recommended approval of the height variation needed before construction can begin on the 136-foot-high structure.

ACCORDING TO the planned unit development ordinance (PUD) height of such a building may not exceed eight stories or 100 feet, whichever is less.

Malcolm Young, chairman of the plan commission, said that the variation was a "gross" violation of the ordinance and that granting it purely on an economic basis was not a legal justification.

The petitioners said that the Randhurst complex is located on 100 acres of land and is capable of supporting a more exten-

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committee of the 13th District.

Representatives of the Randhurst Corp. feel that office buildings are in demand in the area.

Trustee Daniel Abern, chairman of the judiciary committee, said the situation of having 100 acres of property zoned B-3 was "unique," but recommended that the final approval be held pending the legal opinion.

50,000 Coming Home

WASHINGTON — President Nixon yesterday announced an additional 50,000-man reduction of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by April 15.

The new cut brings the over-all reduction to 115,500 men between last Jan. 20 and next April 15.

Benefits Hike OK'd

WASHINGTON — The House unanimously approved a 15-per cent boost in monthly Social Security benefits yesterday for all 25 million recipients starting New Year's Day.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the increase will become part of the tax-reform bill being negotiated by House-Senate conferees resolving differences in earlier House and Senate bills.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 5 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Europe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON — The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., attacked the restriction to a bill appropriating $69.3 million for the Defense Department after a 72-17 vote.

Two Dist. 57 Bond Issues Sold

The Dist. 57 school board last night sold bond issues approved by Mount Prospect voters last year.

The first bond issue, for the $550,000 addition to Lincoln School, went to the LaSalle National Bank of Chicago. The low bid was $411,000 at interest cost with an average interest rate of 7 per cent.

The March bond issue of $274,500 for construction at Gregory and Sunset schools went to the Mount Prospect State Bank at a 6 per cent interest rate.

It was determined at the last board meeting that present interest rates were too high, but that it was impossible to determine when a decrease would take place.

A TENTATIVE construction payment schedule, a cash flow chart, and a bond retirement schedule were distributed at that meeting.

The board decided to sell the bonds last night because if they were not sold by early 1970, the first year's levy for interest would have to cover interest for two years — resulting in a high bond rate levy.

J. C. Busenhart, assistant superintendent and business manager, said the board could have delayed selling the bonds, but that cash from the smaller sale was needed immediately.

Superintendent Eric Sahlgren said that footings for the Lincoln School addition had been poured and about one half of the foundation completed.

He reported that the roof panels were being placed at the Gregory School addition, that the roof paneling had been completed at the Sunset Park School addition and that the contractor will be placing portable heaters in the Sunset Park addition soon.

Board members who looked into the bond market on their own admit that the district might find improved conditions if they could wait six months or more, but not sooner. On the other hand, no expert could guarantee improved conditions at any time.

Estimates on the tax rate for the bond and interest fund were presented as .366 for 1968-69; .39 for 1969-70 with a possible jump as high as .42 for 1970-71 if interest on both issues is paid for two years in the first year. In 1971-72, the levy could then drop back to .37 with .36 the year following.

This rate includes the present outstanding bonds as well as the two new issues and is based on an estimated total assessed value increase of $2 million each year.

Taxes are collected one year in advance on bond issues so funds should be available for payment.

Fill School Post

Tom Warden, Dist. 59 director of training and past principal of Forest View Elementary School, was appointed administrative assistant by the board Monday night.

This position, which pays $17,000 a year, has been vacant since Al Waltman was appointed acting superintendent following Supt. Donald Thomas' resignation in July.

Waltman recommended the appointment saying, "Tom has exhibited the kind of behavior that I think would be an asset to me while continuing as acting superintendent."

Juvenile Counselor

John Strong Resigns

John Strong, a juvenile counselor for the Village of Mount Prospect, has submitted his resignation to Jack Costello, chairman of the Youth Commission, effective Dec. 17.

"For compelling and personal reasons, I am submitting my resignation as juvenile counselor effective Dec. 17," Strong said in his letter of resignation earlier this month.

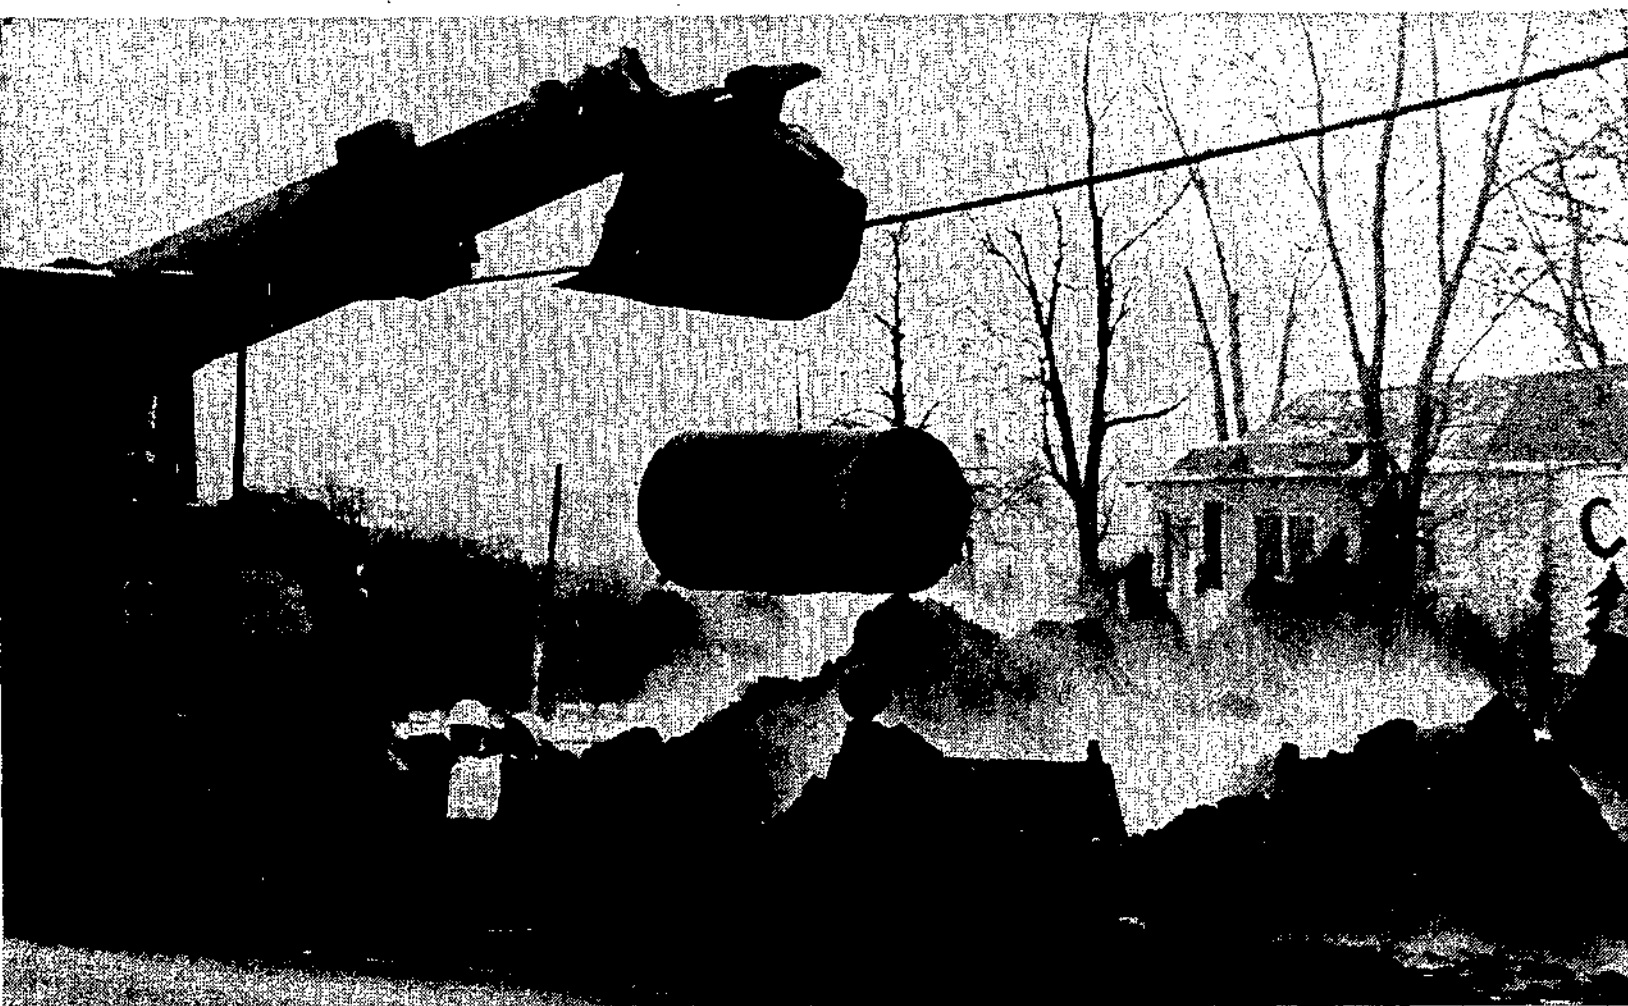

Strong, a youth counselor at Arlington High School, has worked as consulting juvenile counselor for Mount Prospect for two years. He worked closely with Dr. Ronald Duckers, consulting psychologist for the village, on juvenile problems.

Seek Migrant Housing Funds

Funds will be sought to purchase 10 mobile homes to house Spanish-Americans presently living in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township.

A joint steering committee of village officials and members of the Neighbors at Work (NAW) organization reached this conclusion Monday morning.

Several sites in Elk Grove Village have been suggested, including the site of the municipal complex at Wellington Avenue and Biesterfeld Road, the industrial park area, and near Ned Brown Forest Preserve at Cosman Road.

THE COMMITTEE, chaired by Joseph Wellman of NAW, will seek funds, about $25,000, for the trailers, from other governmental units, including the township, county and state.

Village Pres. Jack Pahl was assigned the job of obtaining funds and working out legal ramifications.

The committee indicated it would use the aid of Robert Ibarra, coordinator for Spanish American groups in School Dist. 59, to find the people who will be housed in the mobile homes.

Two families which appear to be likely candidates are those of Anselmo DeLaGarza, who says he was bulldozed off the Klehm nursery Dec. 6 and Armando Gomez, the latest family to be taken in from substandard housing. Both families are housed at the Holiday Inn in Elk Grove Village.

THE COMMITTEE agreed the housing of the families in trailers in the village would be a temporary move until more permanent housing can be obtained.

Members of the committee who took part in Monday's meeting were Louis Archbold, Clyde Brooks and Wellman of Neighbors at Work, and Bill Koretko of the village human relations commission and New Communities, Inc., Richard McGreener, village trustee, and Al Broten, community services board chairman.

Also attending were the Rev. J. Ward Morrison, pastor of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church, Thomas Smith, executive director of community services, and Pahl. Monday's meeting was an outcome of a Sunday meeting attended by some 125 persons at Queen of the Rosary Catholic School.

At the meeting, Brooks proposed formation of the steering committee which will again meet at 7 a.m. today in the village hall prior to making a recommendation to the village board at tonight's meeting.

Brooks, who is manpower director for the North Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), also proposed that the churches of Elk Grove Village agree to contribute a designated amount of money over an eight-month period.

THE MONEY WOULD be used for the needs of low-income people, including the day-to-day expenses of living in this "high-priced area," and for their housing and transportation needs.

He proposed a short-term housing program utilizing trailers for two years, followed by a program in which funds would be obtained from the state for low and moderate income housing in the village.

"No more than 22 per cent of the income of our poor people would go to rent," said Brooks.

As a start, he asked that 30 mobile units be brought into the village under jurisdiction of the village government and administered by a home development or improvement commission.

BROOKS SAID funds for projects such as this are available and that they can be administered under local control.

Charles Zetek, village trustee, said at the meeting that the problem of substandard housing has been one of his concerns for many years and that plans were formed to solve the problem four years ago but that they fell through.

The plan included construction of A-frame homes on the Klehm nursery property south of Northwest Tollway. It did not come about because of inability to obtain financing and acreage, he said.

Zetek said that if it is possible to obtain housing for the Spanish Americans he, as an individual, would work to bring it about.

214 Weighs Protest Policy

Supt. Edward Gilbert of High School Dist. 214 last night presented to the board a policy on organized protest activities that permits outside speakers and in-school assemblies on controversial issues.

The policy represents a step away from the district's policy during the November peace moratorium, when assemblies and outside speakers were not permitted during the school day.

The policy states, in part: "Classroom discussion in regular classes where the issue or issues involved is appropriate to the subject matter of the class shall be at the discretion and judgment of the teacher... the teacher may arrange for outside resources to enrich the discussion provided a balanced point of view of the issue is presented. Use of such outside resource persons shall be with the advice and approval of the building principal."

THE POLICY further states: "With the approval of the building principal, special programs or activities in connection with the issues may be arranged during the school day, before the opening of school, or following the regular dismissal time."

"Attendance will be on a voluntary basis; however, no student will be dismissed from a regularly assigned class to attend or participate in such programs or activities.

"Again, with the approval of the building principal, outside resource persons may be involved in these activities provided a balanced viewpoint is expressed through presentation of the various sides of the issues."

Later, the proposed policy, it states that the request for the use of outside speakers must come from students or the staff of the school involved.

"THE PRINCIPAL'S decision (on inviting a speaker) will be based on the potential educational value to one or more groups of students as they may be presented in other programs on that day."

The policy states in conclusion that students may participate in out-of-school activities, providing they have parental permission.

The policy, which Gilbert has struggled with for the last week, follows lengthy and often heated discussions on how the school board should deal with the October and November moratoriums.

Girl, 12, Is Injured When Trapped by Car

A 12-year-old Arlington Heights girl was injured Saturday morning when she was pinned between two cars at the Randhurst Shopping Center.

Margaret O'Grady, 304 E. Grove St., was listed in satisfactory condition at Northwest Community Hospital with a broken right wrist, head and abdominal injuries.

Police said she was walking along a fire

lane in the parking lot pushing a cart when a car driven by Nancy A. Voss, 18, 1136 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, backed up and pinned the young girl against another automobile driven by Paul E. Pavey, 46, 6 E. Lillian Ave., Arlington Heights.

Miss Voss was ticketed for improper backing and Pavey was cited for parking in a fire lane.

He Brightens The Season

by ALAN AKERSON

The Christmas season for Wallace Berth of Buffalo Grove is an all-year thing. That's because he's responsible for General Electric Co.'s Christmas lamp sales in eight Midwestern and Western states.

Christmas lamp sales "are definitely a year-round business," Berth said. "I'm talking to my first nationwide customer for the 1970 Christmas season later this week."

Berth began selling Christmas lamps for GE in 1961, when the company decided to get into the Christmas lamp business on a large scale. Before that, GE did little more than supply replacement bulbs.

However, the onslaught of imported Christmas lamps forced the firm to decide whether it wanted to remain in the market solidly or leave the Christmas lamp field entirely. GE chose to stay in.

"IN THOSE days I was responsible for Christmas lamp sales in 22 states," Berth recalled.

Today GE's Christmas lamp sales total about $25 million nationwide, Berth said. Each year, about 200 million GE Christmas bulbs are purchased.

"I'm responsible for the sale of about 30 million to 40 million bulbs and about 450,000 Christmas lamp sets," Berth said.

"Often we get charged with 'commercializing' Christmas," Berth said.

"But we feel we're filling a consumer need for good, safe Christmas lamps."

Berth said the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with colored lights began shortly after World War I. "Before bulbs were introduced, people decorated their trees with candles or else they didn't use anything."

"THOSE WERE the days of the traditional Christmas trees when people decorated with things like candy canes and popcorn strings. Only the brave ones put candles on the tree."

The first bulbs used were the full-sized, fluted kind, Berth said. "They were the ones where, if one bulb burned out, the whole set went off." Various other bulbs began appearing on the market shortly before World War II.

Berth said the trend toward miniature lights began about 15 years ago when they began to be imported from Italy.

TODAY, BERTH said, the miniature lamps account for about 35 per cent of GE's Christmas lamp sales nationwide. "The percentage is much higher in the Chicago area though," Berth added.

He said about 70 per cent of his company's sales of Christmas lamp sets in the Chicago area comes from the sale of miniature lights.

"One reason the miniature lamps are so popular here," said Berth, "is that Chicago's Michigan Avenue has been decorated with them for the last 10 years or so."

In decorating Christmas trees and homes, Berth said, "there is no right or wrong way to decorate. Just use taste, common sense and safety."

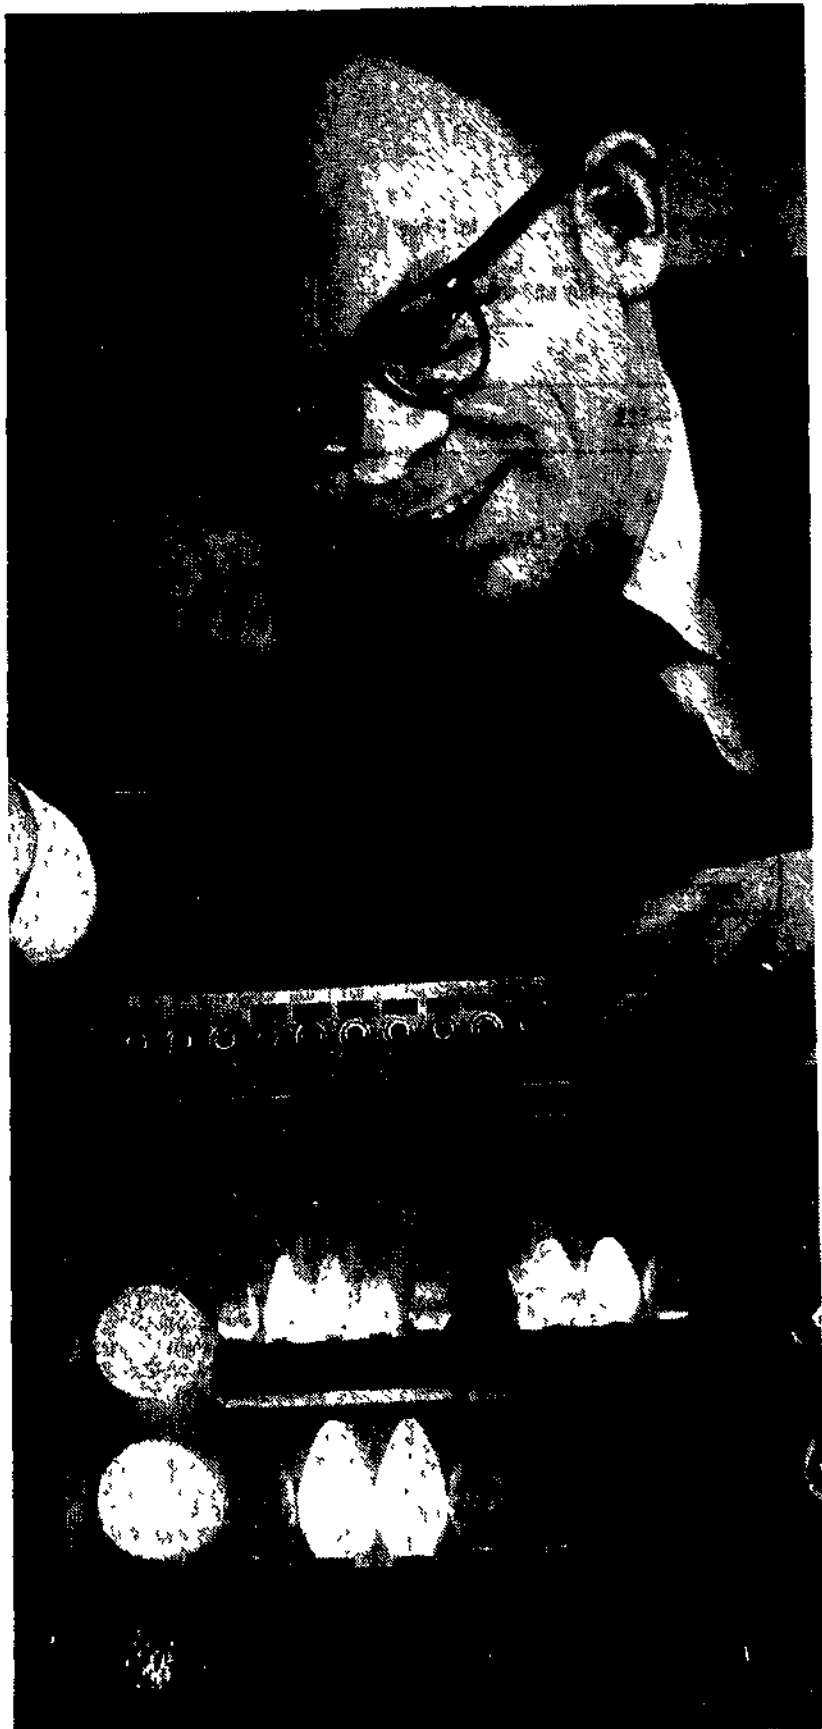

Berth said that most Christmas tree fires result from frayed or poor Christmas lamp wiring. "People tend to hold onto their old light sets forever. They're handed down from father to son. I don't know why; new sets aren't that expensive."

THE CHRISTMAS lamp market is a growing one, Berth believes. Among the reasons behind the growth, Berth cited both the increasing number of homeowners decorating their homes and the new kinds of light continually being introduced.

"In 1961, when we entered the market on a large scale, only about 15 per cent of the homes in the country had some sort of exterior lighting decorations. In 1969, that figure stands at 35 per cent."

The biggest single trend in Christmas lamp sales today is undoubtedly the increasing number of miniature lamps being sold. But there are others.

"Now there is a move toward figuring and fancy lightings. This first occurred in the 1930's but died down until recently," he said that sets with lamps of a single color also are becoming more popular.

A BRIEFCASE FULL of lamps is used by Wallace Berth, a Christmas lamp specialist for General Electric Co., to demonstrate his wares to potential customers. Berth, who lives in Buffalo Grove, has been involved with the sale of GE Christmas bulbs and light sets for about eight years.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT OF the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorse any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage roads for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soe Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agreement, which calls for state highway supervision of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervision east of Route 53.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program develops.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

AL KRINSKY, president of the Arlington Vista Homeowners Association and member of Dist. 23 school board said "I am going to ask the Dist. 23 board members to support a letter sent to the state highway department requesting some sort of barrier to block traffic bypassing on frontage road. The only other traffic using the road is Arlington Vista residents."

Order Home Check

George Dunne visited a substandard farmhouse in Elk Grove Township Sunday and Cook County authorities quickly ordered a spot survey for similar housing in unincorporated areas.

Dunne, president of the Cook County Board, said the house visited at 1031 Higgins Road was in "deplorable condition."

"It's a tragic thing when people have to live in such conditions," he said.

MRS. JULIE SASS of the Neighbors at Work organization in Elk Grove Village, took Dunne to the home of Armando Gomez, his wife, and 2-month-old child.

Neighbors at work became active after the tragic death of three children Nov. 29 in Elk Grove Township.

Sanitary facilities in the building were not functioning, and heat was obtained from a leaking fuel oil space heater, Mrs. Sass said.

The family was moved to the Holiday Inn Saturday night, and on Sunday a coffee hour was held at the home to show members of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church the conditions under which the family was living.

DUNNE SAID THAT when he learns the name of the owner, he will notify him that he must conform to the building code. He also acknowledged that a problem of where to house migrants exists.

In ordering a spot check of substandard dwellings in the county, Raymond Welsh, building commissioner, said:

"If any are found, a task force consisting of electricians, plumbers, and building inspectors will inspect areas for violations."

"Owners will be contacted and ordered to comply with the Cook County building ordinances," he added.

"If owners will not cooperate with my directive, the state's attorney's office will be contacted for possible court action," Welsh said.

HE SAID IF cases reach the courtroom stage, "I will recommend that any substandard structures be demolished at the owner's expense."

Welsh attended a meeting of the Neighbors at Work organization Sunday in Elk Grove Village, after which he told a reporter of his plans.

Welsh asked residents for information in finding substandard dwellings because of his department's limited manpower.

He said he has eight building inspectors responsible for 280 square miles of unincorporated Cook County.

Welsh said residents do not have to give their name, but only the information.

Shooting Linked with Trial?

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy?" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 50 persons at Beth Tikvah Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Cordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy?" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 900 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in

Demo Primary Fight Seen

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated, "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

Is 10-Story Building Legal?

The Mount Prospect board of trustees tonight will hash over a legal opinion submitted by Village Atty. John Zimmermann concerning the legality of the variations granted to Randhurst Corp. permitting it to build a 10-story office building.

The legal opinion will weigh heavily on whether the village board grants approval of the new building at the south parking lots at Randhurst.

Both the board of appeals and the judiciary committee recommended approval of the height variation needed before construction can begin on the 136-foot-high structure.

ACCORDING TO the planned unit development ordinance (PUD) height of such a building may not exceed eight stories or 100 feet, whichever is less.

Malcolm Young, chairman of the plan commission, said that the variation was a "gross" violation of the ordinance and that granting it purely on an economic basis was not a legal justification.

The petitioners said that the Randhurst complex is located on 100 acres of land and is capable of supporting a more extensive use than presently provided because 28 per cent of the property is set aside solely for landscaping purposes.

Representatives of the Randhurst Corp. feel that office buildings are in demand in the area.

Trustee Daniel Ahern, chairman of the judiciary committee, said the situation of having 100 acres of property zoned B-3 was "unique," but recommended that the final approval be held pending the legal opinion.

50,000 Coming Home

WASHINGTON — President Nixon yesterday announced an additional 50,000-man reduction of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by April 15.

The new cut brings the over-all reduction to 115,500 men between last Jan. 20 and next April 15.

Benefits Hike OK'd

WASHINGTON — The House unanimously approved a 15-per cent boost in monthly Social Security benefits yesterday for all 25 million recipients starting New Year's Day.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the bill's manager, said the increase will become part of the tax-reform bill being negotiated by House-Senate conferees resolving differences in earlier House and Senate bills.

Ogilvie's Tax Reply

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie yesterday denied he had instructed delegates to the Constitutional Convention to leave the revenue article untouched.

Ogilvie reportedly had said earlier that Con-Con delegates should leave the article as it stands in light of the Illinois Supreme Court decision validating a state income tax.

White 'Curfew'

CHICAGO — A group of Negro activists Monday declared a 6 a.m.-to 6 p.m. "curfew" for whites in black neighborhoods in response to the slaying by police of two Black Panther leaders.

The Rev. C.T. Vivian, a leader of the Coalition for United Community Action, said the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark had united the black community against what he called "a campaign to oppress, suppress and repress black people."

Thefts at O'Hare?

CHICAGO — Thefts of Christmas presents from baggage destined for outbound flights at O'Hare Airport have moved the foreign airlines to hire policemen to guard their common baggage room.

Euro-pe-bound passengers frequently carry gifts with them for friends or relatives overseas and some have complained of losses of up to $200, a spokesman for the airlines said.

Troop Bar Voted

WASHINGTON—The Senate, fearing the United States could be drawn into "another Vietnam," voted yesterday to bar American combat troops from Laos and Thailand.

Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., attacked the restriction to a bill appropriating $99.3 million for the Defense Department after a 72-17 vote.

Board OKs Korvette's Petition

The vacant land at Arlington Heights and Rand roads was filled last night by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The board unanimously approved Korvette's petition for a shopping center on the property. The plan commission had previously held a four hour meeting on the subject and had passed the request subject to a number of stipulations.

Walter Lesak, attorney for the petitioner, told the board, "We'd like to have this planned development approved this evening."

Patricia Baker, who lives on Knob Hill Drive facing the loading docks of the proposed shopping center, asked the trustees if decorative masonry wall with landscaping or mounding with landscaping couldn't be added to the plans.

THE DEVELOPER of the property, Raymond Keyes, agreed that proper landscaping is needed and assured the board that the matter could be ironed out.

In other action it appeared, not everyone is anxious to enter the village of Arlington Heights.

The Pinegate Highlands subdivision, a 70-lot parcel of land surrounded by Arlington Heights Road, St. Edna's Catholic Church, Douglas Street and the Commonwealth Edison right-of-way had 50 people at last night's session protesting the village's intention of annexing their homes.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said, "When these islands become surrounded we had in the past annexed them to the village."

SAM WOODRUFF, 303 E. Waverly, told the board, "We did not ask to be surrounded by the village."

"We would like to ask you to postpone this annexation."

Claude Daley, 302 E. Waverly, said, "We would like to question the timing of this annexation.

"Why now?"

Village Atty. Jack Siegel explained to the homeowners that before the village can get them on the tax rolls the annexation must occur before the first of the year.

Daley continued, "We feel our street layout isn't made for heavy traffic and we want the opportunity to talk to Mr. Hanson and a committee of this board."

"Do us the courtesy of meeting with us before any action is taken."

Village Pres. Jack Walsh said, "Realistically, this is a question of when."

WALSH ADDED THAT the village will not derive any income for a year and a half while the homeowners in Pinegate will receive village services Jan. 1, 1970.

Hanson explained, "The intent of the village is not to change the character of the area."

The board voted to annex the subdivision.

Prior to the Pinegate hearing, the board voted on the preannexation zoning of the Schwartz property, a proposed 492-unit apartment complex on Dundee Road. A special subcommittee had recommended approval of the complex which will include 40 single family homes, 452 multiple units, and acreage for a park and business usage.

After a vigorous debate by the board, the trustees voted 4-3 to approve the subcommittee's favorable recommendation.

The board also approved the board of local improvement's request for guarantee of professional fees in the Kennicott Avenue improvement project. There had been previous discussion about the length of Kennicott from Northwest Highway to Oakton and the board members disagreed on what the width should be.

Parks' Yule Gift: Ice Skating (Soon)

Frowns of disappointment turned to smiles of approval last night when Arlington Heights Park Board members were told Frontier Park will be ready for ice skating as soon as weather permits.

The park in the Greenbrier subdivision in northwest Arlington Heights was behind schedule, according to architect's reports presented a month ago and would not be ready to offer skating.

Last night, Jack Lynch, of Novak Carlson and Associates, landscape architects, said a natural retention area had been created east of the building. This area can be flooded and used by the park district for its winter ice-skating program.

Last month's reports from the landscape architects stated that perhaps three parks — Camelot, Heritage and Frontier — might not be ready for skating.

Board members were disappointed because they had been told repeatedly during the construction program, which began in the late spring, that the parks would be ready for ice activities.

Joe Bennett, buildings and pool architect, reported that there is no doubt that the four new park-pools will be 100 per cent completed in time for the park district's summer swimming program.

Olympic Park Pool is about a month behind schedule and probably will not be completed until March, Bennett said. Construction and operation of the indoor pool will be paid for jointly by the park district and Dist. 214. The pool is being built across the street from Arlington High School.

Move To Cut Frontage Traffic

The Cook County Highway department will take action next year to widen the expressway lanes along Palatine Road and decrease traffic on the frontage roads of the junior expressway.

A spokesman for the county highway office said bids will be awarded next year for construction which will attempt to take traffic off the frontage roads. The north frontage road of the Palatine junior expressway was the scene of a fatal accident last Friday when a 15-year-old boy was killed while walking on the roadway.

THE EFFECT OF the new revision planned by the Cook County Highway Department would mean that traffic will be greatly reduced and motorists will not use the frontage roads as a means of avoiding traffic tie-ups on the expressway lanes.

A spokesman for the highway department emphasized that the plans are preliminary ones, with no timetable established for actual construction.

When the contracts are let and work begins on the widening of express lanes, the county highway department will, in effect, be fulfilling the request of members of the Arlington Vista homeowners' association and other residents of neighboring communities.

Arlington Vista residents asked the state highway department to close the frontage roads during school hours because the area has no sidewalks and children must sometimes walk the roadways on the way to school.

C. H. McLEAN of the Illinois highway department said again yesterday that closing the frontage roads would not be feasible, but that the new plans for the junior expressway will in effect reduce traffic considerably on the frontage roads.

Initial plans call for expanding the expressway lanes by one lane in each direction and reducing the frontage lanes from two lanes to one, thus placing more traffic on the expressway lanes.

McLean also said that although the state endorses any safety measure for the expressway, the general feeling of traffic engineers is that signs routing local traffic are not enough.

PLACING SIGNS limiting the frontage road for local traffic only is not enough, McLean said, the traffic must be routed by offering motorists the proper lanes to use for high speed or local traffic.

The full contract to widen the express lanes of Palatine Road will call for construction work to be done from Route 53 east to the Soo Line tracks. The job will be handled by Cook County through an agree-men, which calls for state highway supervisor of Palatine Road west of Route 53, and county supervisor east of Route 53.

TRAFFIC WHIZZES by MacArthur Junior High School near Schoenbeck Road. The car in the foreground is on the north frontage road of the mini-expressway. The frontage road was the location of last week's fatal accident which claimed the life of a MacArthur student.

Mrs. Ruth Graham, spokesman for the Cook County Highway Department said the county office will also pursue a traffic safety course in the area and recommend safety rules for the junior expressway providing community support for the program developments.

Reaction to the latest death along Palatine Road still emphasized closing the frontage roads.

Primary Fight In Sight in 13th

There's going to be another primary election fight in the 13th Congressional District next year but, unlike 1968, it won't be on the Republican side.

State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who sought, unsuccessfully, the U.S. House of Representatives seat last month, will be challenged by Northwestern University Prof. Curtis MacDougall for the Democratic nomination in March.

And U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, who had to fight off 10 other Republicans in a primary last October, will get a free ride into the general election in November.

MacDougall's nominating petitions were filed in the secretary of state's office in Springfield yesterday, the final day for filing petitions for the March 17, primary.

WARMAN WAS SLATED to run again by 13th District Democratic committeemen. He is giving up his seat in the Illinois General Assembly to do so.

MacDougall, a journalism professor and textbook writer, has the backing of the 13th District Politics for Peace (PFP) organization, an anti-Vietnam war group which supported Warman this year.

PFP said Warman no longer is being supported because he moderated his views too much during the campaign against Crane.

During the campaign, Warman frequently said his Vietnam stand was closer to President Nixon's than was Crane's. The PFP group opposed the President's stand and wants an immediate withdrawal by the United States.

Following Crane's narrow primary victory in October, there was considerable speculation that he would be challenged by one of the defeated candidates. However, the one most often mentioned as a possibility, Samuel Young of Northfield, is a candidate for Republican State central committeeman of the 13th District.

Talk of opposition to Crane fell off considerably following his 20,000 vote victory over Warman on Nov. 25.

The business office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and, as a convenience, the office will be open every Saturday in January from 8 a.m. to noon.

The deadline for 1970 vehicle stickers is Jan. 31.

He Brightens The Season

by ALAN AKERSON

The Christmas season for Wallace Berth of Buffalo Grove is an all-year thing. That's because he's responsible for General Electric Co.'s Christmas lamp sales in eight Midwestern and Western states.

Christmas lamp sales "are definitely a year-round business," Berth said. "I'm talking to my first nationwide customer for the 1970 Christmas season later this week."

Berth began selling Christmas lamps for GE in 1961, when the company decided to get into the Christmas lamp business on a large scale. Before that, GE did little more than supply replacement bulbs.

However, the onslaught of imported Christmas lamps forced the firm to decide whether it wanted to remain in the market solidly or leave the Christmas lamp field entirely. GE chose to stay in.

"IN THOSE days I was responsible for Christmas lamp sales in 22 states," Berth recalled.

Today GE's Christmas lamp sales total about $25 million nationwide, Berth said. Each year, about 200 million GE Christmas bulbs are purchased.

"I'm responsible for the sale of about 30 million to 40 million bulbs and about 450,000 Christmas lamp sets," Berth said.

"Often we get charged with 'commercializing' Christmas," Berth said. "But we feel we're filling a consumer need for good, safe Christmas lamps."

Berth said the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with colored lights began shortly after World War I. "Before bulbs were introduced, people decorated their trees with candles or else they didn't use anything.

"THOSE WERE the days of the traditional Christmas trees when people decorated with things like candy canes and popcorn strings. Only the brave ones put candles on the tree."

The first bulbs used were the full-sized, fluted kind, Berth said. "They were the ones where, if one bulb burned out, the whole set went off." Various other bulbs began appearing on the market shortly before World War II.

Berth said the trend toward miniature lights began about 15 years ago when they began to be imported from Italy.

TODAY, BERTH said, the miniature lamps account for about 35 per cent of GE's Christmas lamp sales nationwide. "The percentage is much higher in the Chicago area though," Berth added.

He said about 70 per cent of his company's sales of Christmas lamp sets in the Chicago area comes from the sale of miniature lights.

"One reason the miniature lamps are so popular here," said Berth, "is that Chicago's Michigan Avenue has been decorated with them for the last 10 years or so."

In decorating Christmas trees and homes, Berth said, "there is no right or wrong way to decorate. Just use taste, common sense and safety."

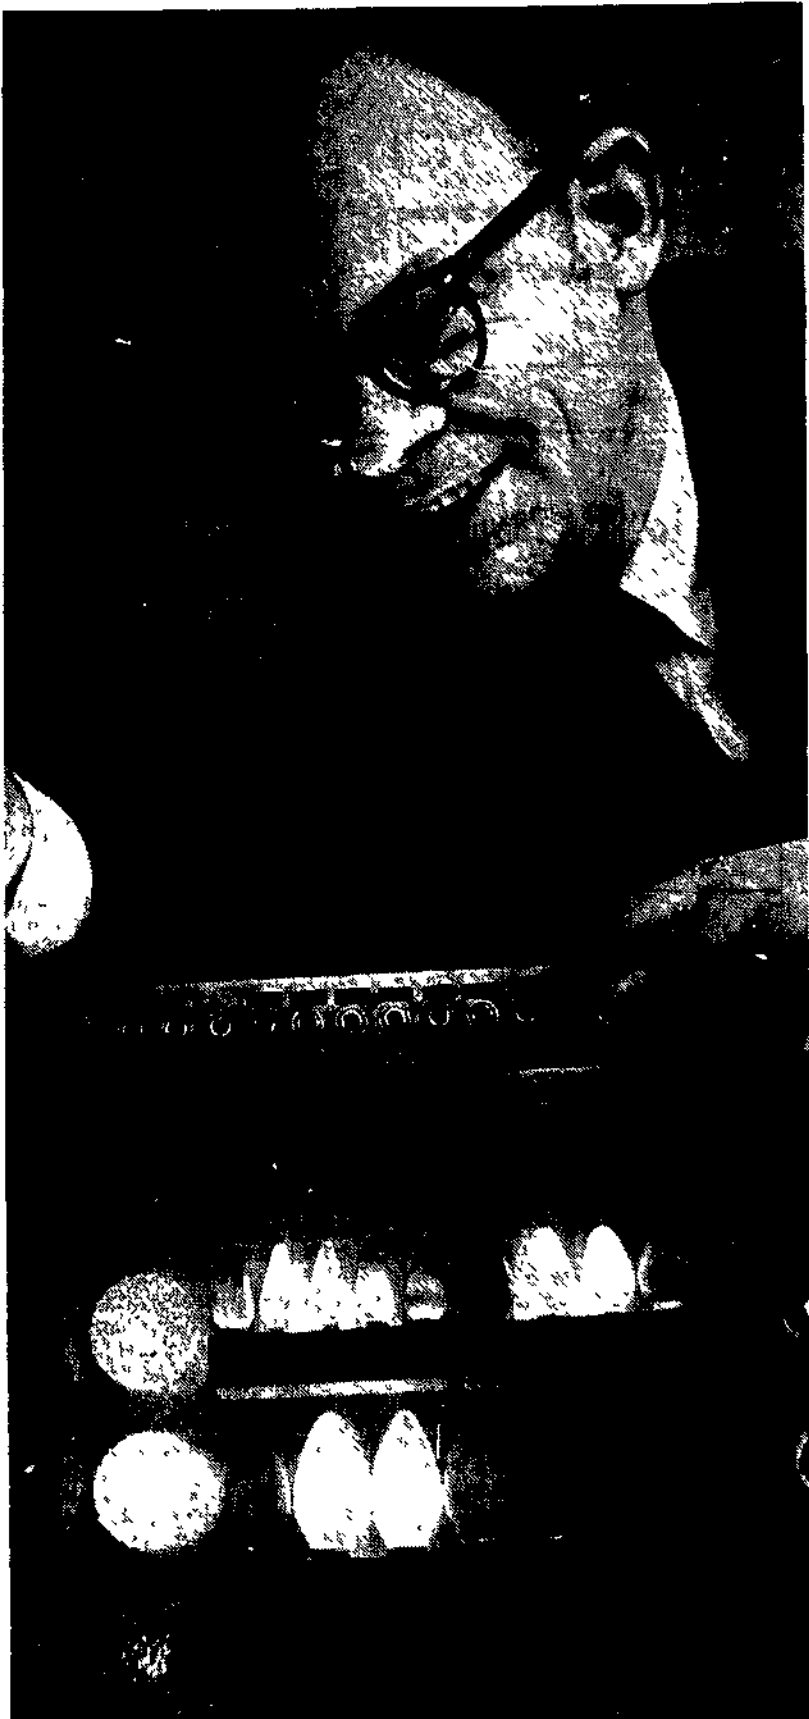

Berth said that most Christmas tree fires result from frayed or poor Christmas lamp wiring. "People tend to hold onto their old light sets forever. They're handed down from father to son. I don't know why; new sets aren't that expensive."

THE CHRISTMAS lamp market is a growing one, Berth believes. Among the reasons behind the growth, Berth cited both the increasing number of homeowners decorating their homes and the new kinds of light continually being introduced.

"In 1961, when we entered the market on a large scale, only about 15 per cent of the homes in the country had some sort of exterior lighting decorations. In 1969, that figure stands at 35 per cent."

The biggest single trend in Christmas lamp sales today is undoubtedly the increasing number of miniature lamps being sold. But there are others.

"Now there is a move toward figuring and fancy lightings. This first occurred in the 1930's but died down until recently." He said that sets with lamps of a single color also are becoming more popular.

A BRIEFCASE FULL of lamps is used by Wallace Berth, a Christmas lamp specialist for General Electric Co., to demonstrate his wares to potential customers. Berth, who lives in Buffalo Grove, has been involved with the sale of GE Christmas bulbs and light sets for about eight years.

Shooting Linked With Trial?

by DON BRANNAN

Was Black Panther leader Fred Hampton killed because he was going to reveal some interesting facts about the "Chicago Conspiracy?" defendants?

That question was posed by controversial court critic Sherman H. Skolnick in a talk in Hoffman Estates Saturday. Skolnick addressed about 80 persons at Both Tikhav Temple on the work of the "Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts."

According to Skolnick, two of the defendants in the conspiracy trial, Rennie Davis and Abbie Hoffman, may actually be undercover employees of the government who should be identified as members of the prosecution.

SKOLNICK CITED the following reasons for suspecting Davis of being in league with the government:

— The Chicago Conspiracy has an office at 28 E. Jackson in Chicago in a building owned by the federal government at the time of the leasing of offices.

— Rennie Davis' father, John Gordon Davis, has held a major position in the federal government from the Truman administration to the present.

— According to court documents, Rennie Davis was permitted to go beyond the jurisdiction of the Chicago federal court and even leave the country while he was being criminally prosecuted.

Legal researcher Skolnick contends that slain Black Panther leader Fred Hampton had knowledge about Davis and his connections with the federal government. So too, states Skolnick, did Bobby Seale. That is one reason that Seale was gagged in court, Skolnick claims.

IN AN ARTICLE written recently for a Chicago underground newspaper, Skolnick stated that five of the "Conspiracy?" defendants, in requesting a federal court ruling that the anti-riot law is unconstitutional (thus barring them from being prosecuted), did not challenge what Skolnick called a key provision of the anti-riot legislation which deals with police.

According to Skolnick, it is under that same provision that the conspiracy defendants were indicted and are now being prosecuted.

The result, Skolnick says, is that the anti-riot law is now constitutional and is now accepted as having a class meaning. This means that it is binding on all organizations and persons similarly situated who cross state lines, for purposes of dissent.

Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts, said that major committee activities involve research into court corruption, court malpractice, and collusion in court.

"Illinois has the best judges that money can buy," said Skolnick, with tongue in cheek.

SKOLNICK REPEATED charges that former Illinois governor Otto Kerner had received 300 shares of stock in the Civic Center Bank and Trust Co. as a gift while in office. Kerner is now a federal judge in Chicago.

A self-styled muckraker, Skolnick declared that Kerner should make available for public inspection the original checks pertaining to his interest in the Civic Center Bank. He said a document expert should examine Kerner's original records since "anything can be typed on at a later date."

Skolnick added that the case involving stock ownership of the Civic Center Bank was the "least notorious" of six Chicago banks being investigated by the citizens' committee.

"I have been accused of grandstanding, and I plead guilty," Skolnick stated, "I'll do anything to call attention to matters I consider wrong."

Fill School Post

Tom Warden, Dist. 59 director of training and past principal of Forest View Elementary School, was appointed administrative assistant by the board Monday night.

This position, which pays $17,000 a year, has been vacant since Al Waltman was appointed acting superintendent following Supt. Donald Thomas' resignation in July.

Waltman recommended the appointment saying, "Tom has exhibited the kind of behavior that I think would be an asset to me while continuing as acting superintendent. . . I need his services."

WARDEN WAS APPOINTED with Harold Harvey as the board member voting against the appointment. Harvey said, "I disagree with the recommendation without any malice as far as Tom Warden is concerned."

He indicated that the district was facing some problems and that one of these areas of concern was the administration. He said that the district will have a new superintendent in the near future and with budget cutting needed this change seemed ill timed.

"It would be bad management at this time," Harvey said.

Al Domanico, board member, said, "We have charged Waltman with the administration of the district and if he feels he absolutely needs an administrative assistant we should support him in this."

WALTMAN ADDED that he does not contemplate any movement to replace Warden in his position as director of training.

In other business Waltman recommended to the board that the hot lunch program should not be expanded, but a contractual obligation with Mass Feeding Corp should be continued through the remainder of the year. The hot lunch program was set up this year on a trial basis at Salt Creek School and Dempster Junior High School.

Migrant Housing Funds Sought

Funds will be sought to purchase 10 mobile homes to house Spanish-Americans presently living in substandard housing in Elk Grove Township.

A joint steering committee of village officials and members of the Neighbors at Work (NAW) organization reached this conclusion Monday morning.

Several sites in Elk Grove Village have been suggested, including the site of the municipal complex at Wellington Avenue and Biesterfeld Road, the industrial park area, and near Ned Brown Forest Preserve at Cosman Road.

THE COMMITTEE, chaired by Joseph Wellman of NAW, will seek funds, about $25,000, for the trailers, from other governmental units, including the township, county and state.

Village Pres. Jack Pahl was assigned the job of obtaining funds and working out legal ramifications.

The committee indicated it would use the aid of Robert Ibarra, coordinator for Spanish American groups in School Dist. 59, to find the people who will be housed in the mobile homes.

Two families which appear to be likely candidates are those of Anselmo DeLaGarza, who says he was bulldozed off the Klehm nursery Dec. 8 and Armando Gomez, the latest family to be taken in from substandard housing. Both families are housed at the Holiday Inn in Elk Grove Village.

THE COMMITTEE agreed the housing of the families in trailers in the village would be a temporary move until more permanent housing can be obtained.

Members of the committee who took part in Monday's meeting were Louis Archibald, Clyde Brooks and Wellman of Neighbors at Work, and Bill Koretke of the village human relations commission and New Communities, Inc., Richard McGreener, village trustee, and Al Broten, community services board chairman.

Also attending were the Rev. J. Ward Morrison, pastor of Queen of the Rosary Catholic Church, Thomas Smith, executive director of community services, and Pahl.

Monday's meeting was an outcome of a Sunday meeting attended by some 125 persons at Queen of the Rosary Catholic School.

At the meeting, Brooks proposed formation of the steering committee which will again meet at 7 a.m. today in the village hall prior to making a recommendation to the village board at tonight's meeting.

Opportunity (OEO), also proposed that the churches of Elk Grove Village agree to contribute a designated amount of money over an eight-month period.

THE MONEY WOULD be used for the needs of low-income people, including the day-to-day expenses of living in this "high-priced area," and for their housing and transportation needs.

He proposed a short-term housing program utilizing trailers for two years, followed by a program in which funds would be obtained from the state for low and moderate income housing in the village.

"No more than 22 per cent of the income of our poor people would go to rent," said Brooks.

As a start, he asked that 30 mobile units be brought into the village under jurisdiction of the village government and administered by a home development or improvement commission.

BROOKS SAID funds for projects such as this are available and that they can be administered under local control.

Charles Zettek, village trustee, said at the meeting that the problem of substandard housing has been one of his concerns for many years and that plans were formed to solve the problem four years ago but that they fell through.

The plan included construction of A-frame homes on the Klehm nursery property south of Northwest Tollway. It did not come about because of inability to obtain financing and acreage, he said.

Zettek said that if it is possible to obtain housing for the Spanish Americans he, as an individual, would work to bring it about.

Extend Road Protest Deadline

The Prospect Heights Plan Commission, an informal group formed to protest the Golf-Rand route of the proposed North Suburban Expressway, has extended the deadline for local organizations to respond to a form letter mailed last month.

Golf and Rand roads are one of several routes being studied by the state for a six-lane expressway that will slice across the Northwest suburbs from Evanston to Palatine. This route may run 1.5 miles east of Rand Road and divide Prospect Heights in half.

The commission's letter requested each organization to send a letter to the commission stating its position on the Golf-Rand route for the expressway. These let-

Cub Pack 269 Plans Christmas Carol Walk

Members of Patton School Cub Scout Pack 269 in Arlington Heights will sing Christmas carols in the vicinity of Virginia Park and Patton School on Sunday.

The scouts will begin their walk at 1:30 p.m. and will request donations from residents for the Northwest Opportunity Center in Rolling Meadows.

The center serves families of low income in the Northwest suburban area by making individual referrals to proper governmental agencies. Classes are held in English, Spanish and homemaking skills and food and clothing collected for those in need.

Parents are invited to join the Scouts for the neighborhood walk.

Jaycee Tree Sales Near 1,200 Mark

Almost 1,200 trees have been sold from the two Christmas tree lots run by the Arlington Heights Jaycees.

The supply of trees sold from the two lots was replenished over the weekend with the delivery of a new load of Scotch pine trees.

Open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day, the lots are at the corner of Sigwalt and Arlington Heights Road and in the Arlington Market shopping center.

The proceeds from the sales help finance various community service projects sponsored by the local Jaycees.

ters will be forwarded to the state highway division.

THE ORIGINAL DATE set for replies to the commission's letter was yesterday. However, only 15 replies have been received, approximately half the number of letters sent out. The new deadline is the end of this year.

Bill Williams, chairman of the commission, has announced that an open meeting will be held sometime next month, at which routes will be set up to circulate petitions protesting the Golf-Rand route. The petitions will be forwarded to the state, together with the letters from local organizations.

214 Weighs Protest Policy

Supt. Edward Gilbert of High School Dist. 214 last night presented to the board a policy on organized protest activities that permits outside speakers and in-school assemblies on controversial issues.

The policy represents a step away from the district's policy during the November peace moratorium, when assemblies and outside speakers were not permitted during the school day.

The policy states, in part: "Classroom discussion in regular classes where the issue or issues involved is appropriate to the subject matter of the class shall be at the discretion and judgment of the teacher. . . the teacher may arrange for outside resources to enrich the discussion provided a balanced point of view of the issue is presented. Use of such outside resource persons shall be with the advice and approval of the building principal."

THE POLICY further states: "With the approval of the building principal, special programs or activities in connection with the issues may be arranged during the school day, before the opening of school, or following the regular dismissal time."

"Attendance will be on a voluntary basis; however, no student will be dismissed from a regularly assigned class to attend or participate in such programs or activities."

"Again, with the approval of the building principal, outside resource persons may be involved in these activities provided a balanced viewpoint is expressed through presentation of the various sides of the issues."

Later, the proposed policy, it states that the request for the use of outside speakers must come from students or the staff of the school involved.

"THE PRINCIPAL'S decision (on inviting a speaker) will be based on the potential educational value to one or more groups of students as they may be presented in other programs on that day."

The policy states in conclusion that students may participate in out-of-school activities, providing they have parental permission.

The policy, which Gilbert has struggled with for the last week, follows lengthy and often heated discussions on how the school board should deal with the October and November moratoriums.

Area Student In Concert

Barbara Heile, a senior at Arlington High School, will perform in the sixth annual Christmas 'Round the World concert featuring Myron Floren of the Lawrence Welk orchestra.

Miss Heile won a five-state audition to qualify for performing in the concert to be held on Dec. 20 and 21 in Boulder and Pueblo, Colo., for the benefit of the American Cancer Society.

DURING THE audition, Barbara played both the oboe and the accordion and qualified to perform with both instruments during the concert. She was also selected to play a solo on the oboe.

At Arlington High School, Miss Heile is a member of the concert band, honors band and orchestra and is a featured accordion soloist with the German band.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Heile Jr., of 604 S. Reuter Drive, Arlington Heights.

Food For Indians

Ridge School students in Arlington Heights will contribute food to the American Indian Center in Chicago this week.

Principal Richard Hetke said that approximately 3,000 cans and boxes of food are already at the school. The Center will send a truck to Ridge later this week to pick up the collection.
